THE MOST RELIABLE

To correct the constipated habit, remove sick-headache, relieve dyspepsia, to purify the blood, cure jaundice, liver complaint, and biliousness, Ayer's Pills are unequalled. They are an excellent after-dinner pill, assisting the process of digestion, and cleansing and strengthening the alimentary canal. When taken on the invasion of a cold or a fever, they effectually prevent further progress of the disease. Being sugar-coated and purely vegetable, they are the best.

medicine, for old and young. Ayer's Pills are indispensable to soldiers, sailors, campers, and all who travel. They are where recommended by the medical fraternity. Dr. J. W. Haynes, Palouse, W. T., writes: "Ayer's Pills have been of great service to me in my practice." Many physicians prescribe them.

"For more than twenty years I have used Ayer's Pills as a corrective for torpidity of the stomach, liver, and bowels, and to ward off many diseases. I have always had perfect peace with Dr. Goodwin, Publisher Democrat, St. Landry, La."

"I was master of a sailing vessel for many years, and never failed to provide a supply of Ayer's Pills, for the use of both officers and men. They are a safe and reliable and always give satisfaction." — Harry Robinson, 52 E. Pearl St., Fair Haven, Conn.

"For a long time I was a sufferer from stomach, liver, and bowels, and had tried a variety of remedies, with only temporary relief. I began, about three months ago, the use of Ayer's Pills, and already my health is so much improved that I hardly rest at the superior merits of this cathartic." — Manuel Jorge Perera, Porto, Portugal.

THE TEMPLE BEGUN.

LESSON II, FIRST QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, JAN. 8.

Text of the Lesson, Ezra III, 1-13—Memorize Verses, 10, 11—Golden Text, Ezra III, 11—Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

EMERGED AGAIN INTO THE SUNLIGHT, SAVED!

We need to bear in mind that the key to this book seems to be "The House of the Lord," mentioned fifty times. The second chapter gives the numbering of the nearly 50,000 who at this time returned to Jerusalem. Verses 61, 62 tell of some who had registered, and they had to be cast out, suggesting to us the necessity of having our names in the Book of Life (Luke x, 20, Rev. xx, 15). Verses 68, 69 tell those who offered freely their ability, and are successive of Mark x, 8. Acts xxv, 35; II Cor. viii, 12.

"The people gathered themselves together as one man to Jerusalem." When in after years the church, which is the temple of God, began to be built at Pentecost, it was "a spiritual house with one foundation" in one place" (Acts ii, 4).

"And built the altar of the Lord of Israel." The patriarchs had no building called temple or tabernacle, but they had their altars and offerings, symbols of atonement, but without a sacrifice. The ungodly, however, had the Ark of the Covenant, the Ark of the Law (Exodus xxii, 22, as proofs of the necessity of the shedding blood. As to the altars, see Gen. viii, 29; xii, 7; xiii, 4, 18. It is evident that the very earliest people had no doubt as to who wrote Pentateuch. It will be well for us to be like them.

3. "And they offered burnt offerings thence unto the Lord." This stands first among all the offerings in the law, and is the most numerous offering in the Word (Lev. 1:4; Gen. viii, 20; Job 1:5).

"After much medical treatment and constant failure, I was induced to try Dr. Green's Nervous blood and nerve remedy. It was a wonderful success. I had little hope, but I soon began to sleep better, my digestion improved, the pain in the head became less severe and I gradually gained strength until I felt as if I had been excommunicated from a pit of abject darkness and despair. The surgeon, after examining the elephant's eyes, said that he was willing to try the effect of nitrate of silver on one of them, that being a remedy which was very beneficial in the treatment of the human eye affected with a similar disease. The animal's driver was accordingly summoned, and the great beast by his instrumentality made to lie down. The doctor then applied the nitrate of silver, and the elephant uttering a roar of pain jumped up and behaved as in such an outrageous fashion that it was some hours before he could be calmed down and secured in his stable again.

A day or two afterward the doctor called again, and found that his application had worked wonders, the sight of the one eye being almost entirely restored, and in consequence determined to operate in a similar manner on the other. He was apprehensive of the animal's behavior, more especially as he was now able to see, and suggested that he be properly secured before he operated upon him. However, the elephant had recognized the doctor's voice, and to everybody's astonishment followed him of his own accord out of the stable into the open, lay down without any persuasion, placing his head quietly on one side with the diseased eye upward, then curled up his trunk and drew in a deep breath, as if any human being might do who was about to undergo a painful operation, and awaited the doctor's pleasure.

The latter used his brush as dexterously as possible, and applied the caustic as quickly as he could and at the same time perform the work thoroughly. During the entire operation the elephant, so far from behaving as had previously done, uttered not a sound, and when it was over got up with a sigh of satisfaction, and manifested by every means in his power the delight and gratification he experienced at its completion, gently caressing the surgeon with his trunk and making other similar demonstrations as he walked back to his stable, and despite the pain he was suffering, uttering no sound.

They said that he fought every boy in the neighborhood, chunked their chickens and sauced their reverend selves. Made him out a real bad boy. The idea! And his own grandmother says that he is the best boy in the world, and she knows good children, for she raised us.

It is by no means a simple patent medicine, but is very useful in cases of a particular kind. — Dr. Swift, in his Medical Record.

"It is truly a wonderful medicine and might well be called the Woman's Friend!" It is a fact that the sick are departing. How many thousands of sufferers there are who, from repeated failures to find relief, lack courage, become despondent and lose all sense of ever getting anything to cure them!

And yet if they will use this remarkable medicine, which is purely vegetable and harmless and can be produced at any drugstore, how soon will their gloom and misery be dispelled! — Dr. Swift, in his Medical Record.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, JAN. 13, 1893.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 193 Main Street, Charles R. Brown, 15 Main Street, John Cummings, 24 Cummingsville, Samuel E. Wyman, W. A. Hanson, North Webster, and at G. P. Brown's Winchesters.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All Advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

PRESIDENT SULLIVAN'S ORDER.

Evidently President Sullivan of the Common Council has the courage of his convictions. He does not believe that the office of Inspector of Buildings for Woburn is a public need, and his order was introduced in the Council last week for the purpose of finding out whether or not City Solicitor Adams knows of any way that it can be abolished.

We admire President Sullivan's grit and independence, and a great many heavy tax-payers in this city, who contend that the establishment of the office was conceived in iniquity, hope his efforts to wipe it out may not prove in vain.

GENERAL BUTLER DEAD.

General Benjamin F. Butler of Lowell died very suddenly in Washington, D. C., early last Wednesday morning of heart failure induced by an attack of pneumonia. He went to Washington a short time since to attend to business in the U. S. Supreme Court and looked after his case on Tuesday as usual. He died not long after midnight at the home of his relatives.

General Butler was born in 1818 and was married in 1844. He was a great lawyer, a distinguished General in the War of the Rebellion, was once Governor of Massachusetts, a leader in Congress, and for many years has been the most conspicuous figure at the Bar and in politics in this State.

SENATOR LODGE'S SUCCESSOR.

According to the natural course of things Speaker Barrett of the Massachusetts House should succeed Henry Cabot Lodge in the National House of Representatives. Mr. Lodge's promotion to the U. S. Senate leaves a vacancy in the 7th District which must be filled by an election.

The eyes of the District already begin to turn towards Speaker Barrett as the proper person to take Mr. Lodge's seat in the House, and the chances are he that he will be chosen to fill it.

Speaker Barrett announced the House Committees last Tuesday. Major Hall was put on that of Manufactures and Mr. Meagher on Labor. The fact that Major Hall was not given a Chairmanship is explained on grounds not entirely creditable to the Speaker.

MOK COURT TRIAL NOTES.

Make the learned witness swear in plain English. That Jury is not deep enough for Latin.

Juryman has a leather halter in his pocket, made it himself and says it is just fit.

If any of the witnesses commit perjury electrocute him on the spot and so help on the fun.

We are sorry for the Defendant; he is guilty of course, but we always weep when we see a man drawn into a threshing machine.

If the trial does not end in a tragedy it will not be for the want of hard swearing on the part of some of the witnesses.

The Juryman has a sharp eye. He will average the outrage on the prostitute and widow, hem, or perish at the bar.

Another Juryman thinks the rooster is inside the prisoner and wants to open him, but this sort of evidence will be ruled out as irrelevant.

Takes your wife, and children to the trial; if you have no wife take your dearest girl, and if you choose, her little brother. In any event go and have an evening of pure enjoyment.

BURLINGTON.

R. W. C. Barrows of Woburn will lecture on "Lessons from two Pillars" next Tuesday, Jan. 17th.

WILMINGTON.

The third Annual Roll-Call of the Congregational church on Jan. 2 was a pleasant and successful affair. A great many people were in attendance by whom the literary and other exercises were greatly enjoyed. The church is in a prosperous condition, the pastor, a gentleman of brains, culture and energy, being heartily sustained by all his church members.

It was a sad discipline for such a woman to be called aside from the scenes of her former happiness and those who visited her were met with the same cordial smile and hearty greeting as former days.

She read a great deal and was warmly received.

Until the last three months she

YOUR COUGH

Has not yielded to the various remedies you have been taking. It troubles you day and night, breaks your rest and reduces your strength. Now try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, before the bronchial tubes become enlarged or the delicate tissues of the lungs sustain fatal injury. As an anodyne and expectorant, this preparation has no equal. It soothes the irritated membrane, promotes expectoration, and induces repose. The worst cough.

Can Be Cured

By the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, Dr. J. G. Gordon, Carroll Co., Va., writes: "I use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my practice, and promote it to be unequalled as a remedy for coughs."

"After the grippe—cough. This was my experience—a hacking dry cough, with an incessant tickling in the throat, keeping me awake nights, and disturbing the household. I took Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and they gave me only temporary relief. At last I concluded to had Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and before I had used half a bottle, I had my first night sleep. I continued to improve, and now consider myself cured!" A. A. Sherman, Coeymans, N.Y.

By Using

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, many have been saved from fatal illness.

E. D. Estabrooks, Canterbury, N.H., says: "In the winter of 1850 I was a survivor of Lincoln's Army in the Civil War, and continually sick. I took Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, accompanied with a terrible cough. I tried several remedies, but they failed to cure me, and it was necessary for me to give it up. On the advice of a friend, I began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and less than half a bottle completely cured me."

AN ADVERTISING LETTER.

A Scheme That Often Does a Firm Injury Than It Does Good.

Speaking of advertising brings to mind a very prevalent nuisance which is being inflicted just now on long suffering New Yorkers. I refer to the advertising letter—the circular letter which asks you to trade with somebody or other. They are directed by hand, put in plain envelopes, sealed and stamped with two cents' worth of terra cotta paper. The uninformed can't tell them from a genuine letter until the envelope is torn open. Then they are unmasked. They are revealed in all their uninteresting disappointment.

These people who send them out are sharp. I tell you. They only send them to private houses and apartments, where women will most likely receive them, and they know the weakness of womankind for anything in the nature of a letter. Women always just agree to get letters, and these confounded circulars fool them every time.

If it happens that the victim lives in a flat, the wife, mother or sister will gleefully trip down the four flights of stairs when she hears the postman's short, sharp ring on the electric bell in the kitchen. She knows the ring perfectly, and it is to her ears about the most welcome sound of the whole day. Then she opens the letter box and pulls out the circular. It looks interesting. There is no advertising imprint on the envelope. The handwriting is apt to be very amateurish or very expert in its lines. The victim studies it carefully. She sees that the letter is postmarked in New York, but that does not count one way or another. She is quite likely and more liable to get a letter from some one in New York than anywhere else. She also studies the back carefully, and holds the letter up to the light and discovers nothing to give her a clew of whom it is from. But she does not open it at once.

Oh, no! She holds it tight like some precious thing, and with a glad heart at the anticipation of a pleasant gossip letter from somebody she climbs the four flights of stairs to her own floor.

Perhaps there are two of them. Then it is all the worse. When she gets into the box of a dining room in her seven room flat, which also does duty as a sewing room, she sits down in the rocking chair, draws a long breath and opens the letter.

Then is the time to see a woman mad!

That woman will give the most perfect imitation of anger and disgust you can find anywhere. She will hurl that advertising letter on the floor as though it was a thing accursed. She knows she has been fooled, and she resents it. Then she flounces out into the kitchen and slams the door. That's a woman's way of swearing.

I doubt if under any circumstances you could induce her to buy goods of the firm who sent her that letter, and so I don't believe that this systematic letter trickery that so many firms indulge in pays them as well as advertising in some other manner would. Within the last week I have received these delusive letters from dry goods houses, banks, furniture stores, carpet cleaners, liquor dealers, real estate agents, confectioners, bakers, butchers, cigar manufacturers, tailors, and even churches are getting into this pernicious habit. The soap people of course are always with you.—New York Herald.

How a Miser Selected an Heir.

As like effects like, so it is with misers; and gold will go where gold is. This is strikingly illustrated by the act of a celebrated Greek, one Dioclesio Dioclesio, a descendant of the Byzantine emperors. This man, by the exercise of extreme niggardliness, managed to amass the sum of $10,000—an immense fortune in those days.

Then came the question to whom should he leave it. One day a distant relative sent him a letter written upon a square inch of paper; this was sufficient. In the fitness of things the parsimonious correspondent became the miser's heir.—Cassell's Journal.

The Highest Pleasure.

The man who owns a railroad never gets half as much joy out of it as the man who travels on a free pass.—Rau's Horn.

One of Albany's Ablest and Best Known Citizens.

Some Interesting Inside History in the Life of a Business Man.

HE SPEAKS STRONGLY AND STRAIGHT TO THE POINT.

The successes of prominent business men are always of great interest to the people.

So, also, when a well-known and honored man is in trouble, there is a desire to know what he is doing, and who knows him best.

Mr. Seth E. Parsons is one of the leading business men of Albany, N. Y., and is widely known and highly esteemed as a man of stern integrity, with the energy and force of character characteristic of our American business men.

Seen at home, 22 Park street, by our paper's representative, he expressed himself in terms of the greatest gratification that he had escaped possibly a most serious nervous difficulty which might have prostrated him.

"I was very nervous," he said, "I could not hold my hands still, especially my left hand; there was an involuntary contraction of the muscles and movement of the fingers.

3. "Then came the Word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, saying: 'The words of the prophets that you have heard are in truth; but it is not yet time for the Lord's house to be built; the church, which is His body (Heb. iii. 6; 1 Pet. ii. 5; 1 Cor. iii. 9 Eph. ii. 19-22), and there is as much difference between it and the house of Haggai as there was between the temple in the days of Haggai. The Word of the Lord was sent to correct the people and bring them into sympathy with God and His purposes' (See Isa. viii. 10, 12, 13).

"It is a fact that you are to dwell in your old houses, and this house is waste!" They were neglecting the temple of Jehovah, and attending to their own houses. The church is a spiritual building to be gathered out of all nations, and the people and bring them into sympathy with God and His purposes (See Isa. viii. 10, 12, 13).

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, JANUARY 20, 1893.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, JAN. 20, 1893.

The JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horne, 195 Main Street; Charles B. Brown, 168 Main Street; John Cummings, 5d, Cummingsville, Salem E. Wyman, W. A. Hansen, North Woburn, and at G. P. Brown's Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All Advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

A CRUEL LAW PROPOSED.

Legislative proceedings show that the erratic Henry Faxon is getting in some of his fine work against the "drunk" law so-called, but it is to be hoped that there is too much good sense left among the members to adopt his wild vagaries and inhuman demands.

Last week a bill was introduced in the Senate, at Faxon's suggestion no doubt, which if enacted into law would be a disgrace to the State. It provides for the arrest without a warrant of intoxicated persons; for a fine of $15 or imprisonment for 30 days; if it is not proved that the accused has been convicted of a like offence within the next preceding 12 months; that County Commissioners, or Commissioners of Public Institutions in Suffolk County, may release persons so sentenced when they think it expedient; for a second offence with 12 months a fine up to $20 or imprisonment up to six months; the Police, Municipal and District Courts and Trial Justices shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the Superior Court of such cases.

The proposition to pass a law so cruel and inhuman ought to and will provoke the indignation and receive the condemnation of everyone acquainted with the power of the drink habit over its victims, and it is our opinion that the Legislature will hesitate a long time before they consent to inflict such punishment on the poor infirmitate for what he cannot help while they allow the one who accomplished his ruin to get off scot-free.

SENATOR LODGE.

The election of Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge to the United States Senate by the Legislature was in accordance with the wishes and expectations of nearly the entire Republican party of the State. No other aspirant stood the ghost of a chance of getting the place for the Legislature were no less earnest for Mr. Lodge's election than were their constituents at home.

To speak it plain, there is not another man in the Commonwealth so well fitted in all ways for the high position as Mr. Lodge is. He is a statesman of the best material and grade. He has the brains, education, breadth of view, social standing, money and blood that go to make the ideal Senator, and Massachusetts has greatly honored herself by promoting him from the House to the Senate.

DEATH OF EX-PRESIDENT HAYES.

The dangerous illness of Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes was reported in the public prints on Tuesday, and the Wednesday morning papers announced his death at Fremont, Ohio, of angina pectoris, or acute rheumatism of the heart, at 11 o'clock Tuesday night.

He was 70 years old last October, and was President of the United States from March 4, 1877 to March 4, 1881.

He was a good man and lived a useful life.

RESIGNED.

The Boston papers have bounded Warden Loveling of the Charlestown State prison so long and persistently that, unable to induce it any longer, he has resigned. But then, he was never really fit for the place.

Major H. C. Hall from this Representative District was appointed by the Speaker a member of the Committee to represent the House at the funeral of General Butler at Lowell last Monday.

Hon. Rufus R. Wade, Chief of the Massachusetts District Police, will please accept our thanks for a copy of his report for 1892. It is a valuable public document.

The days have increased in length 31 minutes.

Brown's glass marked 6 above yesterday morning.

Bonelli is selling blankets, dress, and other staple goods very cheap.

Shawshene Tribe of Red Men gave a grand ball last Wednesday evening.

It was 2 above Wednesday morning—6 milder than the former mornings.

Mr. Charlie Taylor of Pleasant St. has been quite ill, but is now better.

The cake walk by our colored brethren next week will be worth taking note of.

Mrs. Jennie Greenleaf of No. Berkwick, Me., is visiting relatives in this city.

Si Perkins is coming to town next Wednesday evening with his threshing machine.

At 5.30, A. M. Tuesday it was 4 below zero; at 7, 1 below; at 10, 12 above.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Elliott have gone to Florida to remain during the coldness of the winter.

Buss' glycerine for chapped hands, lips, etc., is sold by Goodwin & Highley. It is a cureall.

"Muldoo'n's Picnic" drew a big house last Saturday night and was highly enjoyed by all present.

Davis of Somerville is filling the Carter ice houses at Richardson's Mill with a good quality of product.

The election of city officers will probably take place next week. Many candidates are on the anxious seats.

Let's see, who was it that said the other day that our fire alarm is all right? How was it yesterday morning?

What possesses the boys to keep all the time pestering officer French? Why can't they let him alone? It's too bad.

The JOURNAL's candidate got snowed under in Ward 6 last Monday. But then, there are exceptions to all general rules.

We are indebted to Mr. John H. Carter of Wilmington, builder and lumber dealer, for a very neat 1893 calendar. Thanks.

Some think D. F. Moreland, Esq., will rake in the persimmon in the City Clerk contest. It would be funny if he should get it.

We wouldn't take a farm in Argyle for the pencil-sharpeners bought of Mr. M. Down the other day if we couldn't get another one.

It is said that beating of the Army is next to impossible. In the same connection it is claimed that there is a screw loose somewhere.

Whist is having a great run this winter in fashionable circles in this city. Parties are of frequent occurrence at the residences of the elite.

Gilman F. Jones, Dr. Frank W. Graves, George W. Nichols, and others of Woburn attended the funeral of General Butler last Monday.

Dr. Seth W. Kelley says the present is a healthy winter. There are but few cases of grip and they are grippe instead of the genuine article.

Mr. Alvah J. Foster has fully recovered from the effect of a violent attack of bleeding at the nose in which he came very near dying two weeks ago.

The many Winchester friends of Charlie A. Jones of Woburn will be pleased to learn of his election to the Auditorship of Woburn. —Winchester Star.

Gateman Brown's glass indicated only 2 above last Monday morning. For four weeks it went pretty close to the zero notch. But it has been very healthy weather.

Although there are more sleighing parties there seems to be less in horn music this season than formerly. Is it possible that the tin horn has relegated to the back seat?

Having about finished filling his horns Frank Nichols and his men are doing the same for Goodrich. Nichols and Goodrich both will have houses brimful of splendid ice.

Last Thursday night was the 90th in succession that Mr. Simeon Weymouth had sat up with and nursed Mr. Elijah Weymouth, who has been very ill, but is now on the mend.

The Past Officers Association will give their annual party in Lyceum Hall on the evening of Jan. 26. Of course, as usual, it will be a swell affair. Fine music has been engaged for the occasion.

The Christmas number of Wide Awake—magnificent issue, by the way—contained a beautiful little poem from the pen of our gifted townswoman, Miss Hannah R. Hudson, entitled "Little Brother."

It looks as though Dr. D. F. Murphy is the coming City Physician. In the long run it don't pay to be an expensive partisan." As the drily service people used to call it. Dr. Murphy is a popular physician and man.

Miss Emily F. Pollard's report of the condition of the Warren Academy Industrial School in behalf of the subcommittee is a good one. The School is a pronounced success. The corps of teachers employed would be likely to make it anything else.

Capt. C. P. Jayne and lady entertained Rev. D. M. Wilson of Boston at their home, No. 70 High Street, last Sunday when he occupied the pulpit of the Unitarian Church. He was the officiating clergyman at the wedding of Captain and Mrs. Jayne 17 years ago.

The Ladies Charitable Society of the Unitarian Church have elected the following officers for the year ensuing: President, Mrs. A. M. Wynn; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. S. Almira Ramsdell, Mrs. Clara W. Aldrich; Secretary, Mrs. Isabel W. Littlefield; Treasurer, Miss Annie Wood; Directors, Mrs. Mary A. Leeds; Mrs. Katherine Richards, Mrs. Jeannette Davis, Mrs. Eta Grammer, Mrs. Lucy Clewley, Mrs. Sarah Simonds.

Quite a Fire.

A little after 9 o'clock last Tuesday evening an alarm from box 67 summoned the firemen to a blaze on Plymouth street which did considerable damage to the house and furniture of Mr. Richard Morris, but by the good work of the department was kept from spreading to other residences in the immediate vicinity. At the hour named Mr. Morris discovered some clothes hanging near the kitchen stove on fire and finding that he could not subdue the flames he rushed up stairs to rescue his family and got them, in a half naked condition, to the shelter of the homes of neighbors who turned to and made them as comfortable as possible.

We had an idea we would hear from his sooner or later, and so indeed we have. It was neighbor Fred A. Hartwell from whom we were expecting a word. He is spending the winter with a favorite brother of his at Rockledge down in Florida who are raised the best, biggest and sweetest oranges in that famous orange country, and from the most reliable information at hand we conclude he is enjoying life to the brim. Neighbor Hartwell can do that and not half try only give his tools. —With word from him came for the JOURNAL editor a great bag of the finest oranges that grow anywhere, for which neighbor H. will be particularly sure that he has our thanks.

An advertisement of the A. O. F. H. appears in this paper and is worthy of immediate attention. Responsible parties are at the helm, and careful investigators say this Order is among the soundest and very best. It has a home charter which is all in its favor. Look at the advertisement at the bottom.

We have received from our old friend and former fellow citizen, Mr. Dean Dudley, a copy of the "Memorial Reunion of the Descendants of Governor Thomas Dudley," of which he is the compiler, for which he will please except our thanks. We remember he was sent to England by descendants of the famous family many years ago to trace out the Dudley race and that he wrote and published the result of his researches in a large book at his return to this country. He is a recognized historian of the Dudley family.

Mr. Edward Simonds was re-elected City Messenger with very little opposition last week. For several years he has filled the bill admirably, for he has undoubtedly a good record.

Davis of Somerville is filling the Carter ice houses at Richardson's Mill with a good quality of product.

The election of city officers will probably take place next week. Many candidates are on the anxious seats.

Yesterday we had a pleasant call from Mrs. C. H. Menter (nee Harris) of Northboro, Mass. She was in good health and spirits and happy.

Mr. Amos Cummings yesterday began a series of mark-downs, close sales and will continue the same until his large and desirable stock is exhausted. There never was a time in the history of Woburn when ladies cloaks could be bought so cheap as now, thanks to the business enterprise and sagacity of Mr. Cummings.

In "The Boston Globe's Grand Columbian World's Fair contest" Nellie L. Sheehan of this city stood at the head in the Teacher's department last Wednesday evening with 1165 votes to her credit. Dora T. Fuller also of this school, and Mary E. Briggs, 257.

The pupils of several of the city schools are putting in big licks for their favorite teachers.

The Salvation Army will give grand anniversary demonstrations on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Jan. 25, 26, at their Hall, for which excellent musical talent has been secured. The object is to raise funds to carry on Christian work here and is deserving of a liberal patronage by our people. The concerts will be of the best kind too.

Next Wednesday evening Frank Jones, everywhere known as "Sip" Perkins, will give "Our Country Cousin" at Lyceum Hall, as will be seen by the notice of it in our business columns. "Sip" has been in Woburn before and crowds enjoyed his play and playing to the fill. Who that has seen it can ever forget that threshing machine and the way "Sip" ran it.

On next Thursday evening, Jan. 26, Rev. Dr. May will give one of the most interesting entertainments in the Y. M. C. A. course. The Doctor's lecture will be profusely and beautifully illustrated with stereopticon views of the scenes and objects described which will render the lecture in the highest degree entertaining. Read the Committee's notice in another column.

One of the very best entertainments given in the Y. M. C. A. course was that by "The Kidder-Trip Recitals" on last Thursday evening past. None of them have been more heartily enjoyed or more handsomely complimented by an audience. Mr. Kidder and Mr. Trip are real artists in their line, and a better bill than that which they give the public it would be hard to make up.

As a public purveyor Landlord McConnell has substantially completed his plan of success. His work and his contractors and efficient employees entertained seven sleighing parties all at the same time, and they were big ones too. They came from Malden, Chelsea, Roxbury, Boston, and other seaport towns and they were promptly served with hot suppers good and abundant enough for the highest quality in the land. They were a merry lot all round and as each set left a heavy cheer of cheers was given for the Central House. On Tuesday night there were nearly as many guests on pleasure bent as on Monday, and so it has been every evening since. The fact is, there is no public house within a radius of 10 miles that stands as high as the Central House does for sleighing party suppers and the like.

BOSTON THEATRES.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

With the drama season, the recent comedy drama "She Couldn't Marry Three" at the Grand Opera House, Boston, next week, the management of that theatre will have given to its patrons three new, bright and sparkling plays in succession. "The Two Who Preceded Next Week," attention having been given to the high standard and they have been very liberally patronized. "She Couldn't Marry Three" is most assuredly a peculiar name for a stage drama, but it will be satisfactorily explained and analyzed by that charmingly beautiful little artist, Miss Lillian Kennedy and her excellent company, next week at this theatre.

THE BOSTON.

"Dame in Town" is in its 11th week and interest in the play is as great as ever, the decrease rather than increase. The only reasons given are a first class performance and the extra attraction Vanoni and the grand ballet is the only explanation, as this play is indeed a wonderful production. The scenery and costumes have never been equalled.

THE PARK.

"A. T. Tupper's Town" is indeed a wonderful drawing room picture, the house is filled at each performance and the characters of this play are well taken as all who make up the cast have become very favorite during their stay in the Park. The comments of the press are unnecessary to fill this popular house as the sign standing round only can be seen rightly.

THE TREMONT.

"Niobe," the delightful comedy by the bros. Hayes and Edward, will be given next Monday evening at the Tremont Theatre. The return of this bright play with Abbott & Seal's excellent company will give a great satisfaction to theatre-goers in Boston and suburbs. The piece has been produced time and time again with great success, and although it did not seem possible to do so, but such is the fact. The company is headed by Miss Isabelle Coo who is well and favorably known.

THE BOWDOIN SQUARE.

On Monday next begins the engagement of Charles H. Yale's big spectacle, the "Devil's Auction." The parsons of the Bowdoin Square theatre will hail with delight the mystery and thrills which peculiar effects are produced during the scenes. The cast contains some well known favorites and the engagement of one week will not be long enough to satisfy the patrons of this popular house of amusement. Dockstader's Minstrels give their farewell entertainment tomorrow evening.

THE COLUMBIA.

Next Monday evening "Lady Wimere's Fan" will be presented by A. M. Palmer's Stock Company, a special arrangement with Mr. Charles Palmer, who owns the American rights of Oscar Wilde's new play. "Lady Wimere's Fan" has met with great success in London. The dialogue is bright as all who are familiar with the author's writings can testify. This cast will be a strong one and will include all the leading members of Mr. Palmer's Company. The event of the season.

THE GLOBE.

On Wednesday, Jan. 23, Francis Wilson and his Opera Company present "The Globe in 'The Lion Tamer,'" a story of the Circus, which had a most successful run at the Broadway, N. Y., and has been presented in all the principal cities in the country. The return of Mr. Wilson to Boston will be hailed with delight by the patrons of the Globe. He is a favorite everywhere.

THE HOLLIS.

W. H. Crane and his admirable company are to be seen tonight and twice tomorrow as his last week of his engagement at the Hollis will be devoted to "The Senator." Mr. Crane's impersonation of "The Senator" is world wide and no comment is needed from the press. Mr. Crane's ability is decided success and those who will witness this famous actor for the last time this year should apply early for seats.

THEON.

It is handsome enough for Sunday and cheap enough for weekday wear. Any jeweler will show you many styles of the new, quick-winding Waterbury. $4 to $5.

ELY'S CREAM BALM.

It is a notable first night at the Museum last evening. Manager Field presented, for the first time in America, an English farce, "The Little Jester," which won great success in London, and for the first time on any stage a new play called "Hay Fever," by Miss Margaret Merton, author of "Capt. Lettarbair." The play was logically staged, and the three acts made as handsome pictures as have been seen on the Museum stage for a long time.

AUSTIN'S PALACE THEATRE.

The grand pantomime company, known as the "Imperial Ballet," began an engagement of one week at Austin's Palace Theatre, Monday, and played to the full capacity of the house both in the afternoon and in the evening. The show is of a right merry order, indicated almost entirely by song and applause. The girls of this company are young and pretty, and appear in dazzling costumes, in their marches, choruses, etc.

BURLINGTON.

The next entertainment in the Y. P. S. C. E. course will be a concert, Jan. 24, by talent from Boston, Andover and elsewhere.

REV. C. F. HERSEY.

Rev. C. F. Hersey will be ordained at the church Wednesday, Jan. 25, at two o'clock in the afternoon. The Council meet at ten o'clock in the morning.

THE SELF-RESTORER.

The second Concert of the Y. P. S. C. E. lecture and entertainment course will be given Tuesday evening, Dec. 29, and will consist of vocal music and select readings, etc.

BURLINGTON.

Burlington is the abode of many old, easy to keep clean. Saves labor, cost very small. Put on without extra charge.

MR. C. F. HERSEY.

Mr. C. F. Hersey will be ordained at the church Wednesday, Jan. 25, at two o'clock in the afternoon. The Council meet at ten o'clock in the morning.

A QUAIN SCENE IN GOTHAM.

Friday Afternoon Marketing in the Heart of the Jewish Quarter.

Between Grand street and East Broadway Norfolk street is one of the most picturesque thoroughfares of the city. It is in the heart of the Jewish quarter, and is a great marketing place. Every night the stores, the street stands and the peddlers' wagons do a lively business, and on Friday afternoon, just before the first stars in the sky proclaim the arrival of the Sabbath, the scene has some of the aspects of Saturday in the big markets of the town. The basement stores are really nothing more than cellars, having been originally used as such, and only recently remodeled for their present purposes.

Nearly all are occupied by bakers, and the proprietors can be seen hustling around attending to their customers with their sleeves rolled up above their elbows and their persons and clothes covered with flour. There are also bread stands upon the street. Nearly all of the bread used in this quarter is made of rye flour, and the crust is baked very hard and brown. The loaves, which are round or oblong, shade from light yellow to a very dark brown, and they look clean and appetizing.

The street is filled with children, from toddling infants to boys and girls twelve and thirteen years old. Very few boys above the age of thirteen can be seen at play, because after a Jewish boy arrives at the age of thirteen he is supposed to have taken on man's estate, and, with it the care and dignity of a man. Most of the peddlers' carts contain vegetables, which usually look questionable. These and the meats and fish cause occasional odds on the part of the board of health.

Other interesting features of Norfolk street are the tobacco stores and stands. Cigars are not as prominent in the display as in ordinary places, but the long cut Turkish and Russian tobacco for cigarette and pipe use appear to be most popular. The cigarette habit seems to have taken hold of the population of this quarter to a remarkable degree, as the stained fingers of most of the men and youths attest.

The cigar stands, however, labor under a disadvantage on Fridays, because smoking is one of the things forbidden on the Sabbath, and the patrons therefore buy few smoking materials on Friday. As soon as evening comes the vegetable carts disappear and so do the street stands, while most of the shops are locked up. With the approach of darkness the children also disappear, and the street becomes very quiet.—New York Sun.

A Mushroom Which Intoxicates.

The inhabitants of the northeastern part of Asia use a mushroom to promote intoxication. It is known as the fly blown mushroom, and is also very abundant in Scotland. The fungus is gathered in the hottest part of the year, and is then hung up by a string in the air to dry. Some are dry before gathered, and these are stated to be far more narcotic than those artificially preserved. Usually the fungus is rolled up like a bolus and taken without chewing, for if masticated it is said to disorder the stomach. One large or two small fungi produce what is looked upon as a pleasant state of intoxication for one day. The effect is the same as that produced on taking a quantity of spirits or wine, except it is delayed from one to two hours after the fungus has been swallowed.

At first it produces very cheerful emotions of the mind; it renders some persons exceedingly active, and is a stimulant to muscular exertion; thus, if a person affected by it wishes to step over a straw or a small stick it impels him to take a jump sufficient to clear a low hedge or the trunk of a tree; it keeps those fond of music perpetually singing, and under its influence a talkative person can neither keep secrets or silence, hence it is a source of danger to ladies and politicians.—Horticultural Times.

How Positive People Walk.

Obstinate people, who in an argument rely more on muscularity than on intellectual power, rest the feet flat and firm on the ground, walk heavily and slowly, and stand with the legs firmly planted and far apart. Turned in toes are often found with preoccupied, absentminded persons. The toes pointed and dragged on the ground with slow, measured step give a pompous appearance.

Perplexity occurs irregular steps and abrupt movements. The prudent walk is measured and regular, entirely free from hurry, agitation or precipitation. The miser's walk is represented as stooping, noiseless, with short, nervous, anxious steps.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Attention at Church.

A clergyman on a certain occasion having spoken of the church attendance in a certain town as rather poor, Bishop Brooks, in entire unconsciousness of his own power of drawing, corrected him, saying that he had recently preached in the town and had found the attendance remarkably good. On another occasion he expressed his disagreement with the assertion that it is hard to get people to go to church, for the same reason—it had been his experience that people were glad to go to church.—New York Tribune.

What "Charm" Really Means.

The word "charm" is from the Latin "carmen." Originally it meant incantation. To charm a person is to bewitch him. In "Julius Caesar," act iii, scene 1, "I charm you" seems to mean "I admire you." When we speak now of a charming woman we do not imply that she sings an incantation to us, but there is a pretty figure of speech in our use of the word. We mean that she has the same command over us as if the incantation were sung and we were bewitched.—National Review.

A Miniature Fire Hose.

A Kentucky man has a water spaniel that he has taught to extinguish fire whenever it sees anything burning. To test the little dog a piece of paper was ignited and dropped on the floor. In an instant the dog jumped upon it and very quickly extinguished the flame by rubbing it between his paws. The dog was tried with a lighted cigar with the same result.—New York Tribune.

FILTHY GARMENTS.

LESSON IV, FIRST QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, JAN. 22.

Text of the Lesson Zech. III, 1-10—Memory Verses, 7, 8—Golden Text, Heb. IV, 14—Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

By comparing verses 14 and 15 with verse 1 of Hag. it will be seen that in about three weeks after his first sermon the work was resumed, and the prophet sent for him in the seventh and ninth months of the same year (Hag. iii, 10, 30). The first message came to Zechariah in the eighth month of the same year (Zech. i, 1), and on the night of the 14th he received a series of seven or eight visions which are recorded in chapters 1, 7, to vi, 15. Our lesson is the fourth of these visions, the first three teaching that the hosts of heaven act on behalf of God's people; that every nation and kingdom must be ruled and that, having chosen Jerusalem, will surely perform all his pleasure concerning her.

"And he showed me Joshua, the high priest, standing before the angel of the Lord, and he said to him, 'Behold, I have put my brand upon you.' A prophet represents the people before God. This high priest represents the nation of Israel as appearing before God for a blessing, and the great advantage of this is that he can intercede for us if he possibly can. I suppose that no individual or nation ever came to God without knowing something of the resistance of the adversary.

"2. 'Then I turned and saw unto satan: The Lord rebuked thee, O satan; even the Lord hateth thine presumptuous rebuke thee. Is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?' See chapter ii, 12; Ps. xxxxi, 13. God had chosen Israel and Jerusalem, and that set aside the Amorites. As far as I can see, Jesus was so desperately wicked he expected anything good from, but God's 'Go thy way, for he is a chosen vessel unto me,' settled all that (Acts ix, 15). God knows His instruments before He chooses them, and is prepared to use them and qualify for His services at any cost.

"3. 'Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments and stood before the angel.' Here is the ground of satan's resistance. Israel could now defend itself against the Amorites. We find out that he is still with Ishmael, 'Wos is me, for I am a man of unclean lips' (Isa. vi, 5), and with Job, 'I abhor myself' (Job xlii, 6), for 'all our righteounesses (our very best things) are filthy rags' (Isa. lix, 6). Every mouth could not help to hear anyone rock a chair, I had no nerves in my right hand it would have been a curse to me, and when would come into his feeling there would be a deadly feeling at my stomach. I had a dull, tired feeling in my head.

"4. 'It was evident that there was a terrible physical condition of my nerves and system which required immediate attention.' I once began taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and have taken four bottles.

A STRANGE EXPERIENCE.

She Came Out of it All Right, but the Danger was Great;

What Few Persons would Like to Go Through in This World.

SEEMED ALMOST LIKE A MIRACULOUS INTERVENTION OF PROVIDENCE.

One can scarcely credit it. Yet it all happened to me in the little town of East North Yarmouth, Maine. And the late lives today to tell the story. Her name is Mrs. H. E. Skillin, and she is well known and most highly esteemed. It seems—but we will let her relate the matter in her own words, just as she gave it to us:

"I began at first having trembling feelings of the heart," she said, "and was very bad at times. Any little excitement would make it worse. I became languid, and felt constantly fatigued, and worn, lost all my natural energy and ambition, and was consequently weak and nervous."

"Indeed, I was so nervous at times I could not bear to hear anyone rock a chair, I had no nerves in my right hand it would have been a curse to me, and when would come into his feeling there would be a deadly feeling at my stomach. I had a dull, tired feeling in my head.

"5. 'Indeed he is a Maitre Jacques—Jack of all trades.' What will you?" says with a deprecating shrug.

"Genius must eat." Someday I will make nothing but sabots," she said, "and know where I learned my art.

"So with the fair country of Auvergne, where my father and my family for many generations have been shoemakers. We left our country—my wife and I and came to America. Why did we not leave the Americans almost all wore the leather shoe. Ah, one judges other countries by what one sees at home.

"Well, the business has its ups and downs. Once, when Mr. Kirwan brought out a French ballet, there was money to be made. I would do it again without pay, to measure once more those pretty feet, to look once more at those dainty ankles! That—ma foi—that was as good as Auvergne!

"But now such things happen rarely. Now and then an order for one pair of wooden shoes for completing some fancy costume—that is all."

"No, I had forgotten. Many French people know me, and they come and order what we call soques—with a wooden sole and a leather top."

"You see the pastry cooks and bakers, the waiters and glassmakers would rather wear the sabots; they last longer."

"The old man picks up a tiny sample of his handiwork and strokes it lovingly. That belonged to little Pierre, he says, his eldest son, who died years ago in Mexico. The twillight has fallen, and the old fellow's face is in deep shadow. And we pick our way out of the poor room upon the rickety steps. Through the hall float the sounds of a harmonica. 'Le beau pays d'Anvers'—sings a fresh young voice. In the front room all is dark and still.—New York Recorder.

Snakes in a Bird's Nest.

The great cleft fly catcher chooses for its nesting place a sheltered hollow bough or the abandoned excavation made by the golden winged woodpecker. His architecture is peculiar on account of the unusual materials he uses. In every nest you will find a bit of dry snakeskin and shreds of soft inner bark of trees. Among the hundreds of nests that I have examined not one has lacked these peculiar substances.

Naturalists have tried in vain to discover why the bit of dry snakeskin is chosen. It does not seem to be of any use in the structure of the nest, and quite often it lies loosely on the outer rim, or carelessly set into the extreme bottom. Possibly the fly catcher regards it as a choice bit of ornamentation!—Maurice Thompson on Golden Rule.

Found Dead.

You ought to see Mrs. Thompson's magnificent home! It's just full of Corsets and Millinery. The Parvenu-Terrible! Why doesn't she try insect powder?

Two Women Who Live Together.

Cynical people who like to talk about the meanness and general inhumanity of women to each other should take notice of the case of Eleanor Kirk Ames and Catherine B. Le Row.

These two women have lived together in peace and harmony for nineteen years. Mrs. Ames is the editor and proprietor of Eleanor Kirk's Idea, a weekly paper for women, and Miss Le Row is the principal of the girl's high school in Brooklyn.

They have a charming home on Green avenue, and could not be induced to believe that "single blessedness" demands that a woman shall be alone when there is a loyal, congenial friend to share her life.—New York Recorder.

One Way of Expressing It.

SOMETHING LIKE A BOMB-SHELL.

Mayor Richardson's investigation, through his Chief of Police, of the condition of the licensed victualling houses in this city, and his report to the Board of Aldermen, last Friday, was a painful surprise to the licensees of those places. From the fluttering it produced it is safe to say the broadside was not expected. The victuallers (1) had been permitted to run so long without molestation that they had settled down in the belief that everything was going to be trouble for them under the new administration and that a single stove would do for the entire 12 this year just as did last.

But Mayor Richardson's move was an eye-opener, and the prompt and energetic backing he received from Aldermen Davis, Ellis, Fox and Pushee, was still more so—it was a shock. So far as the rum business is concerned it is evident that things are going to be different this year from what they have been heretofore. In order to get a license to sell rum under the 4th class a person has got to keep in good faith a restaurant—something that never has been done here. The Mayor means business and so do the Aldermen.

If the Mayor and Aldermen stand right up to it, as no doubt they will, for that's the kind of stuff they are made of, it looks as though the Committee of 100 would be out of a job this summer. The City Government are going to see to it that the laws are observed and they feel entirely competent for the task.

The attitude assumed last Friday night on the rum question by the Mayor and Aldermen inspires the hope that better and cleaner things are in store for our city. It is heartily approved by the best classes of our citizens. The Mayor and Aldermen will be sustained in the stand they have taken. They are on the right track. They not only know what is right but are courageous enough to stand up in their boots and maintain it.

All honor to Mayor Richardson, Aldermen Davis, Fox, Pushee, Ellis, and any others who may have made up their minds that rummers and alleged victuallers should live up to the provisions of the statutes just the same as other people have to do.

BISHOP BROOKS DEAD.

Philip Brooks, Bishop of this Episcopal Diocese, died at his home in Boston at half past 6 o'clock last Monday morning after an illness of less than a week. He was born in Boston on Dec. 13, 1835, and graduated from Harvard in 1855.

Bishop Brooks's fame as a pulpit orator was not confined to America—he was nearly as well known, and held in fully as high esteem, in London as in Boston and New York, and occupied a rank second to none in the world for eloquence and piety. He was a great man in every way.

Overwork, which carries off so many from all walks of life in these days, was the probable cause of the death in his prime of Bishop Brooks.

FALLING INTO LINE.

The Republican newspapers in the 7th Congressional District are falling into line for Mr. Barrett as Senator Lodge's successor. Several of our exchanges in that quarter of the State warmly advocate Mr. Barrett's election, and as the newspapers generally represent public opinion pretty accurately it is quite safe to bet on Barrett's getting there.

ALL RIGHT.

There can be no question but that the elections by the City Council last Wednesday evening will prove satisfactory to the public. The result was generally expected.

Some uncertainty was felt as to the City Clerkship, but so far as the re-election of Treasurer Buck and Collector Maguire was concerned little or no doubt was felt.

PRECISELY.

Doubtless the workings of the so-called "drunk law" are not altogether what was expected, but it does not follow that repeal is the remedy.—Boston Journal.

The principle of the law is just, humane and righteous, and it is hoped the Legislature will allow it to stand substantially in its present form.

The Woburn Journal made a great hit when it started in on the publication of recollections of the Great Rebellion by "Carleton," the famous War Correspondent, and of brave men who helped to put it down. We know of several people who buy the Journal every day just for these stories which after reading they carefully paste into their scrap-books for future study.

"Hoods Saraparilla Calendar" is one of neatest and prettiest things of the kind we have seen this year.

The cake-walk last night was a brilliant and successful affair. There were visitors from all over the lot.

— The annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Home for Aged Women advertised in this paper.

— Mrs. E. L. Pierce of 94 Main st., fell and broke her wrist a few days ago. She has the sympathy of many warm friends.

— If the St. Charles C. T. A. Society hold a mock court, as contemplated, it will be a good one, and don't you forget it.

— Our old friend, Mr. Rufus Smith, is getting the better of his rheumatism, and is around town again as usual. Glad of it.

— The live people of the Methodist Church are preparing for a great fair to be held on Feb. 14. Let everyone give it a lift.

— Mrs. Susie Doherty of Somerville and Curtis are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McKay, on Chestnut street.

— Jaquith & Co. are making things hum at the corn and feed mill on Main st. They are putting things right through by daylight.

— Big sleighing parties continue to fill the Central House every night, and Jack McConnell stands ready to receive them every time.

— Bishop Brooks, had he lived, would have preached at Trinity Church in this city this week. In the midst of life we are in death.

— Major Richardson hit the nail on the head when he said the city does not need 12 eating houses or victuallers' establishments. The idea is preposterous.

— The Boston Ice Company have housed about 60,000 tons of Horn Pond ice. Nichols' figures were not much quite so high but he got in stacks of it—good ice too.

— In a business letter to the JOURNAL, Mr. A. B. Dimick says of the Highland Golf Club who are to wind up the Y. M. C. A. Course: "These young men are doing splendid work."

— Mr. Willard Smith is in the daily enjoyment of a good mid-winter trade. His closing out bargains have attracted many purchasers of late and business is lively at his fine big store.

— The Boston Globe of Wednesday contained pictures of ancient things in Burlington (nee Woburn), agent the ordination of Rev. C. F. Hersey, which were worth preserving.

— Mr. F. A. Hartwell met Mr. Houghton Allen at St. Augustine, Florida, and had a good time with him—a first-rate time. Brother Allen seems to be enjoying life to the brim.

— The Minstrel show given by the Phalanx to secure funds with which to furnish the new Armory was given with eclat last Wednesday evening, which was handsomely patronized.

— Rev. H. C. Parker, pastor of the W. A. Greenough & Co. of Boston, Directory Publishers, called upon us last Wednesday. He is a valuable man for their work being able to speak several languages, and is bright and active. The new Directory, which will include Woburn and Winchester, will be ready for delivery about March 1. next.

It looks as though the Water Registrar's salary will soon be raised to somewhere near where it ought to be.

— At $1200 is the proper figure for the City Clerk's salary the Water Registrar's should be $1800. Major Richardson

— The Minstrel show given by the Phalanx to secure funds with which to furnish the new Armory was given with eclat last Wednesday evening, which was handsomely patronized.

— A Dance party for the benefit of widow Michael O'Brien of No. Woburn, at Hibernian Hall, on Thursday evening, Feb. 2, Calum's Orchestra will furnish the music. Mrs. O'Brien, whose husband was killed by the street cars a year or so ago, has five little children to support and is having a very hard time. It is to be hoped that loads of tickets to the party will be sold.

— Mr. Fred A. Hartwell returned from a pleasant visit to Florida last Saturday evening in good health and spirits. He enjoyed the trip and visited many points of interest. He found the climate cool at cold Rock ledge where his brother resides in the winter season and raises oranges. Mr. Hartwell entertains a good opinion of Florida and it is more likely he will find his way down there again some time.

— The next entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. Course will be given on Thursday evening, Feb. 9, by the Highland Golf Club assisted by Prof. George W. Blish, Reader. It will be a good one.

— The present City Physician is a very estimable gentleman but they do say his official decapitation is a foregone conclusion. Well, he has been wonderfully favored with plums from the public crib.

— The leather factories in this city are "hives of industry" this winter. Idle men on the streets are few if not far between which indicates a healthy condition of the labor world so far as Woburn is concerned.

— Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Badgell of No. 1 Lexington street were visited last Monday evening by a sleighing party from Alston, their former home, and hosts, guests and everybody connected with it had a jolly good time.

— Mr. Amos Cummings is going in for another big closing out sale next week. He is just more than booming trade. The women will do well to improve the opportunity which these sales offer for securing big bargains.

— The Board of Trade finished up the election of officers and other business under the charter last Monday evening and are now going ahead with all sail set. The Treasurer made a gratifying report of last year's business.

— Principal Lewis has issued invitations to musical people to meet the teachers of the Lewis Music School at the Rooms in the Dow Block on Tuesday evening, Jan. 31, and "enjoy a short programme" to be executed by the school.

— The Committee of 100 are feeling very good over the bold and honest stand taken by Mayor Richardson and Aldermen Davis, Ellis, Fox and Pushee in the matter of victuallers' licenses. They have good words for Chief McIntosh too.

— It was Mrs. Charlie Taylor who was under the weather and not the head of the household. Charlie never gets ill unless he breaks a leg or something of that sort, and the sharp, clear, cold weather, he says, has done him proud this winter.

— Last week the Woburn Co-operative Bank joined the Massachusetts Association of Co-operative Banks, and this afternoon the President and Secretary will attend the annual meeting of the Association and banquet at the Crawford House in Boston.

— Everybody speaks in praise of the stiff, clear, bright winter weather with life-giving N. W. winds that we had from before Christmas to Jan. 22, or thereabout. Everybody was well and felt strong, nervy and good. Mr. A. Brooks of Canal st. says it suited him to a dot.

— Particular attention is called to the advertisement of the Y. M. C. A.'s final entertainment in its excellent course. Thanks to the care given the business by Mr. A. B. Dimick and his associates the course has been a success in every way. A good one has been reserved to close up with.

BOSTON THEATRES.

THE BODWYN SQUARE.

Next Monday there will be a grand revival of that ever popular play, "Haze Kirk," with Effie Elsler in the title role supported by C. W. Coulbeck and a superb company. The play has been greatly added to this popular play and with entirely new scenery and properties a fine performance is promised. "The Devil's Auction" will bid farewell with the Saturday evening performance.

THE GLOBE.

On last Monday evening Mr. Francis Wilson began what gives promise of being a successful engagement in a new comedy, "A Temperance Town." The play is a new one and it was introduced at the Globe theatre, its production marking Mr. Wilson's return after an absence of two years. "The Lion Tamer" is a glorious play in the grand style of which scenes are often carried out in the question. Among its brilliant features are the assembly tent of the circus and the real circus parade which is shown in the last act, both of which are examples of elaborate staging.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Next week's attraction at the Grand Opera House will be a notable dramatic event in more respects than one. The play is a new one and it is the introduction of Captain John A. Cratras and Messrs. Hoyt & Thomas presented every coupon holder with a handsome remembrance. The theatre was packed. Hoyt's "A Temperance Town" is now completing its 8th week and Monday next begins the third month.

THE PARK.

It was another night at the Park theatre last Monday, Hoyt's "A Temperance Town" having counted up 50 performances at the end of its run. The cast includes Mrs. Hoyt & Thomas presented every coupon holder with a handsome remembrance. The theatre was packed. Hoyt's "A Temperance Town" is now completing its 8th week and Monday next begins the third month.

THE HOLLIS.

Next Monday will begin the engagement of John Drew in "The Masked Ball." Effie are going into the Hollis for the first of the events of the season. The cast includes many well known favorites. An early application for seats is advised as the large advance sale indicates that the play will be a success. Hoyt & Cratras in "The Starbird" will close with Saturday matinee and evening performances.

THE COLUMBIA.

"Lady Windermere's Fan" is a decided success at the Columbia. Mr. Palmer's company gave a very fine performance but special mention should be made of Mrs. Bowers as the gossipy matchmaker in which she made a decided hit. Next week will be the last of Mr. Palmer's Stock Company.

THE BOSTON.

"Babes in the Wood" are now on the last two weeks of the engagement. The third period will be filled with the production of "Manxmen." Theophilus' old favorites. The popularity of this play has been wonderful and the Boston (one of the largest theatres in this country) has been filled at each evening performance.

BOSTON MUSEUM.

"Good Bye" is now on its second week at the popular Museum and is fast growing in favor. Miss Merrington has made an interesting story and "Good Bye" in the hands of Miss Merrington Company is after an evening of great enjoyment. As a certain raiser "Faithful James" has become very popular here, and the double bill will be attraction until further notice.

THE TREMONT.

"Niobe" was the attraction last Monday night and the delightful comedy captured the patrons of this popular house. The first act is full of humor, the second full of fun, and the third a repetition of the first. The play is a good one and the popularity of the re-created wife of Amphion was as near perfect as human skill could make it. "Niobe" will be the attraction next week.

THEATRE PALACE.

The Marie Sanger Royal barquette company organized in New Orleans and now seen for the first time in New England is the next attraction at Austin's Palace Theatre in Boston. The organization will be in the extravagant burletti "A Heavenly Time" with a special array of comedians, handsome scenery, brilliant costumes, etc.

PROBATE COURT.

The next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Charles L. Skinner, late of Woburn, in said County, deceased, intestate, will be held at the Probate Court in Woburn, on Tuesday, January 27, 1893, at 10 o'clock A.M., to determine who shall receive against the estate.

W. H. FOLSON, Register.

HE LOOKED LIKE ARTHUR

How a "Double" Made Lots of Enemies for President Arthur.

"There are about 10,000 people in this land of the free now telling their children how they shook hands with President Arthur who are harboring a delusion," said Mr. J. Donald at the Lindell. "President Arthur was the man who knew the president intimately—men who mistook me for him, and I probably got him into no end of trouble by promising full offices to the multitudinous hangers-on at Washington."

I was coming down Pennsylvania avenue one day when a big fellow from Missouri tackled me. He had come on three months before to beg for a marshalship or something, and I had sent him home with the promise that his commission should chase him hard. It didn't chase, and he came back to hold the chief magistrate to his promise. He called on the president, but Mr. Arthur protested that he had promised him nothing. He expostulated, and the president explained to him that he had a "double" in town who was making life a burden for him.

When the big Missourian swooped down upon me I saw that he had blood in his eye. I divined the situation at once. He came up and shook his fist in my face and expressed a fervent desire to "chaw" my up. I got on my dignity at once. I would have preferred to get on the Washington monument and pull the steps up after me but hadn't time. I told him I was not responsible for the wretched practical jokes of the man who looked like me and cautioned him not to assault the chief magistrate of the nation.

"You're not the president," he shouted. "I left the president only an hour ago." "Certainly, I remember your visit very well. I thought I had explained the situation to you, I replied with all the coolness I could assume. He looked completely beat. He apologized and hoped I would not lay it up again. I freely forgave him, told him he was an honest fellow, and hinted that if he would go home and behave himself I might make him postmaster at St. Joe. He made a bee line for the depot, and I felt relieved."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Hint for Detectives.

There is another little hatchet story going the rounds that in its way is almost as good as the time honored one in which the father of his country figures so prominently.

Some time after the Borden murder, when all the world was wondering where the hatchet could possibly be with which the deed, so it was believed, had been committed, General Butler was traveling by rail, and this particular topic came up for discussion in the course of conversation.

Close to the eminent lawyer was a reporter, although the general knew it not, though it would probably not have made any difference, as he usually says what he thinks without fear or favor.

Where could the hatchet be?

Some thought in the air, others in the earth, and still others in the waters that are under the earth—in fact every possible place was named by some length.

At length Butler spoke. "I can tell you just where that hatchet is," he said with great deliberation.

"Where?" asked two or three at once, for the general's opinions always carry great weight.

"It can never be found until the murderer dies, for he or she swallowed it."

Why don't the police work on this hint?—Boston Herald.

War Secretaries.

The office of secretary of war was established on Aug. 7, 1789. The first holder of the office was General Henry Knox, of Massachusetts. He was thirty-nine years old when appointed. He was one of the Andre court martial, served with Washington in Yorktown, and arranged the details for the evacuation of New York city with Guy Carleton. During the first half century of the republic's existence New York frequently furnished the war department with its chief, but since 1845 there has been but one New York secretary of war, General Schofield, who served only for a short time. He was, when appointed, a resident of the Virginia military district, though a native of New York. During his first term Mr. Cleveland had a Massachusetts secretary of war, the first to hold that place since the close of Madison's term.—Exchange.

Jay Gould's Early Business Tact.

To show Mr. Gould's shrewd business tact Mr. Woolisier said:

Jay proved himself a sharp business boy. He had a habit of getting old pocketknives, much the worse for wear, and going to a person whom he knew to own a fairly good knife, he would say, "I'll swap knives 'unseen' with you." If the man or lad did not know Gould he would trade and in nine cases out of ten would get much the worst of the bargain.—New York World.

Thoughtfulness.

It was a Connecticut girl who married a telegraph operator, "so that when my dad it wouldn't cost anything to telegraph the news to her uncle's folks in Ohio."—Buffalo News.

A Resignation.

A postmaster in Iowa recently sent the following pathetic resignation to the postmaster general:

I have had the honor and pleasure to receive the mail from Keokuk by means of horseback, afoot, my own wagon, and finally from the railroad train, from the days of Lincoln to Harrison. I have distributed the same to Irish, German, English, Scotch, Swedes, Norwegianians, and Dane and Dutch creditably. I believe, to the government and satisfactorily to the Republicans, Democrats, Grangers, Greenbackers, Prohibitionists and lastly to Alliances, or I would have long since lost my head. Goodby, Uncle Sam, for I must now leave your service.—Postal Record.

The newspapers of today print better illustrations than did the magazines twenty years ago.

The famous "Labyrinth of Egypt" contained 300 rooms or chambers and twelve halls.

TWO ANOINTED ONES.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

LESSON V, FIRST QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, JAN. 29.

Text of the Lesson, Zech. iv, 1-10—Memory Verses, 5-7—Golden Text, Zech. iv, 6—Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

1. "And the angel that talked with me came again and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep." The mortal body can stand but little of joy or sorrow without refreshing sleep. Even on the banks of Gethsemane the most joyful and the most sorrowful events of Scripture, we see holy men asleep. As to an angel's touch see I Kings xix, 5, 7; Acts xii, 7; Dan. x, 10, and remember that these mighty men of God did not sleep when God spake unto them. A spiritual sleep or inability to grasp or even become interested very much in the things of God is greatly to be deplored, but is very common even among Christians. Carelessness, sloth, and permissiveness make the word of God dead. Following men instead of THE MAN, and depending upon ordinances instead of upon HIM, tend to spiritual sleep (I Cor. iii, 1; xii, 30). But see Rom. xiii, 11; Eph. v, 14, and let us ask God by His Spirit to awaken us at any time.

They said unto me, "What seekest thou?" And I said, "I have looked, and behold, a candlestick all of gold." The prophet would think of the golden candlestick of the tabernacle, the temple of Solomon, and perhaps he gave light in the holy place and were daily trimmed and replenished with oil. Israel had been chosen and brought out of Egypt to be a light for God among the nations. Their sin and captivity had obscured the light, but God had given it back again. The prophet is now being taught that God will make Israel a light notwithstanding her present desolate condition. Not only shall she be cleansed and clothed as in the previous vision, but she shall be said to be "fairer than the daughters of Jerusalem." The glory of the Lord is risen upon her.

2. "The Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory" (Isa. ix, 1, 19, 20). And two more times is the name of the Lord and the other upon the left side thereof." By reading verse 12 with verses 2 and 3 it would seem that the prophet saw a lampstand bearing seven lamps, a great central bowl having either one or seven pipes leading to each, with a golden pipe from each track to the central bowl—in other words, a self-supplying lampstand apart from any help of man.

3. "So I measured and made to the angel that talked with me, saying, 'What are these, my Lord?' This question is repeated in verses 11 and 12 and answered in verse 14, and as those verses are not included in the lesson this is the place to consider them. As without the lampstand there can be no light, so without the cross no oil, we see the importance of this question and answer. What then is meant by the two anointed ones? The only classes of people anointed in Scripture are priests and kings (a prophet here). Jesus is the greater king. He was anointed by the two offices by Aaron and Moses, but at the time of the lesson by Joshua of the previous chapter and Zerubbabel of this chapter. If you would be a light in this world for Him, then know that He must be an apostle, a teacher, a working man, and living to make intercession for you, but also as your personal king or lord or proprietor, you being ready to whatever he may appoint.

4. "Then the angel that talked with me said, 'These are two olive trees, and the lampstand between them.' This question is repeated in verses 11 and 12 and answered in verse 14, and as those verses are not included in the lesson this is the place to consider them. As without the lampstand there can be no light, so without the cross no oil, we see the importance of this question and answer. What then is meant by the two anointed ones? The only classes of people anointed in Scripture are priests and kings (a prophet here). Jesus is the greater king. He was anointed by the two offices by Aaron and Moses, but at the time of the lesson by Joshua of the previous chapter and Zerubbabel of this chapter. If you would be a light in this world for Him, then know that He must be an apostle, a teacher, a working man, and living to make intercession for you, but also as your personal king or lord or proprietor, you being ready to whatever he may appoint.

5. "Then the angel that talked with me said, 'These are the two anointed ones, whose names are not yet known, but which is noted in the Scripture of Truth (Dan. x, 21). See the story of Cornelius and Peter and the angel in Acts x.

6. "While the word of the Lord unto Zechariah was not yet fulfilled, he said, 'Not by Myself, saith the Lord, but with Myself, saith the Lord of Hosts.' Not the wisdom nor the might of man but only the Spirit of God can accomplish any work for God. We are not to glory in wisdom or riches or might, but in the Lord, who is in us, Jesus Christ. Said, 'Without Me ye can do nothing' (John xv, 5). And even the men who had been nearest to Him had to wait for the descent of the Spirit, that they might be endowed with power for service (Luke xxiv, 49; John x, 18).

7. "With art thou O great mountain? Before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain." A mountain may represent great difficulty and is sometimes used to represent a kingdom (Jer. ii, 24, 25). The mountain of Israel is in fact the mountain of the church of Israel, King of Kings and Lord of Lords, and from beginning to end the work shall be seen to all of grace.

8. "Moreover, he said, 'I will bring a curse upon the saying that all else may pass away. The Word of our God shall stand forever, and he that doth the will of God abideth forever' (Isa. xl, 8; John II, 17). 'Forever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven.' The word of God is forever. All the kingdoms of this world shall yet become the kingdoms of our Lord and of His Christ (Rev. xii, 15). The true Zerubbabel (dispenser of confusion) shall yet come in flesh in Testimony as head of the church of Israel, of the Kingdom of God, and of the church of the Lamb of God.

9. "In the hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it." This was literally true of that building. See Ez. vi, 14. It shall be true of Jesus and all that the Father has given him. He is the cornerstone of the world, and the builder of the church, the church of the Lamb of God.

10. "He will put away the iniquity of Israel and bring in everlasting righteousness for her, and He will fill the whole earth with His glory." He will subdue all antagonists and bring back to the Father a perfect earth without sin or stain (Eph. i, 22, 23; Dan. ix, 24; Isa. xi, 9; I Cor. xv, 24). For your own personal comfort eat II Tim. i, 18; Phil. i, 6.

11. "He that despised the day of small things!" It is not the seen but the unseen that moves the believer, who, like Moses, endures as seeing Him who is invisible (Heb. xi, 27; II Cor. iv, 17). He is the Rock of Ages, the Rock of Ages, the Rock of Ages! (Rev. xii, 11), and with Jonathan, "There is no restraint to the Lord to save by many or by few" (I Sam. xvi, 6). The Lord, through His Son, has said, "I can do nothing" (John x, 39). The Drapery and Keweenaw cannot be cured.

I have taken the liberty to add, "I am mighty deceiving."

12. "Procuring Tortoise Shell.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals would find a wide field for its operations if it would send an agent to the West India islands, where the tortoise shell is obtained.

The natives do not generally kill the tortoise to get its shell, but fasten it to the ground by tying its head and feet to pegs, then lay hot coals on its back. The scales are thus loosened and come off very easily, and the turtle is turned out to grow another supply.

The process is an remarkable cruel, and the ladies who object to wearing bird plumage in their hats ought to also reject tortoise shell combs.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

13. "Mighty Deceiving."

A pretty good fish story is told on "Uncle Jimmy's" Case, of Green Cove, Fla. He was out fishing the other day and hooked what he claims was a mammoth trout—like all fishes.

He said, "I am mighty deceiving."

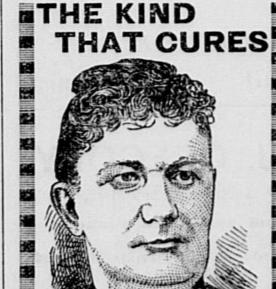

14. "Teacher—Are there any classes in a republic like ours?"

City Boy—"Only two."

"Two!"

"Yes'm. Them wet's got er pull an them wat ain't"—Good News.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, FEB. 3, 1893.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 105 Main Street; Charles R. Brown, 156 Main Street; John C. Hayes, 53, Cummingsville; Samuel L. Vining, 10, North Woburn, and at G. F. Brown's Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All Advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

BLAINE IS DEAD.

Ex-Secretary of State of the United States, James G. Blaine, died at his home in Washington, D. C., at 11 o'clock last Friday morning. His family were at his bedside when he breathed his last. He had been in failing health for more than a year, and for several months his decease at almost any moment would not have been a surprise. Kidney and lung troubles were the disorders that finally ended his days.

James G. Blaine was born in Pennsylvania in 1830; graduated from Jefferson College in that State, and in 1856 went to Augusta, Maine, and took editorial charge of the Kennebec Journal, then as now one of the leading papers in New England. Two years subsequently he abandoned journalism for politics, since which period his life has been public property and his brilliant career is familiar to all.

He left a name behind him that will be remembered longer than any other American except Washington, Lincoln and Grant. He was not only the greatest statesman of his day and generation, but America never produced a greater. His fame was well earned and it will endure long after other National characters are forgotten. He distinguished himself in every public post occupied by him. He was a brilliant orator, a graceful and correct writer.

Blaine was a good man. His character was noble. His life was a pure one. Political enemies worked hard to make the world believe it was not so, but without success. He was just as honest and conscientious in his politics as in his business affairs and social relations. He believed in doing right always, and everywhere, and the pursuit of worthy objects in the right way characterized his whole life. The same political enemies who were loudest in trying to blacken the character of Blaine when in the zenith of his fame are now warmed in their praise of him.

Defeated ambition—for Blaine was ambitious—hard work, and domestic bereavements, of which he seemed to have had more than his share, at last undermined a naturally strong constitution and brought him to the grave in the very prime of his years.

HAWAII IN THE MARKET.

In a bloodless revolution in Hawaii, Sandwich Islands, fortnight ago, the Queen was forced to give up the throne and a Provisional Government was established in place of the Monarchy. As soon as this was accomplished representatives of the new order of things were sent off to Washington to induce Uncle Sam to allow Hawaii to become annexed to the United States, and these Commissioners are now in Washington doing what they can for the success of their errand.

All sorts of opinions prevail at the National Capital as to what this government ought to do in the premises, but great unanimity exists on one point, and that is, that all other nations must keep their hands off from the Sandwich Islands. Even should the United States decline to accept the proposition of the Hawaiians for annexation they will, all the same, see to it that nobody else gets the Islands, especially England, who has an eye on them, and was the only one of the Foreign Powers present who did not consent to the protection of the Hawaiian Provincial Government by United States troops at the time of the revolution.

We hope the Government at Washington will consent to take Hawaii as an annex to the Union for so do we would be directly in line with what ought to be our policy; but at any rate other nations must not be allowed to take it under any circumstances whatever.

TABLED, ETC.

If the matter of Mayor Richardson's investigation of the attitude of the Woburn vintners towards the law, as presented to the Aldermen last week, was meant to be only temporary, or to give time to back up and fit, so to speak, as we suppose it was, then it was all right. But the public are keeping an eye on the thing that was tabled and expect to see it lifted and acted on in due season.

WHEN the Boston Journal raises its voice against opening the World's Fair on Sunday it meets with warm approval from the best classes of people in this country. But there is no danger that the gates of the Fair will be thrown open on Sunday for even if Congress should reconsider its action and vote to open them as they will not President Harrison stands ready with his pen in hand to veto it. We are glad to see the Journal stand up so manfully for American principles and the right.

THE Reading Chronicle, one of our most highly esteemed Xs, prints a strong endorsement of Speaker Barrett for Senator Lodge's successor in the House. The papers of the 7th District are nearly unanimous in favor of Barrett's election—all except those published in Lynn—they are waiting to see how the cat jumps.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.
Nat. A. Co.—Editor.
M. E. Society—Sup't.
A. Buckman—Great Sale.
Friday Night Club—Tableaux.

The days have increased in length 1 hour and 2 minutes.

Bear in mind the Grand Annual Fair of the Y. M. C. A.

The date of Miss Emma Fosdick's next concert is Tuesday, Feb. 21.

Bonelli is offering big bargains in foreign and domestic dry goods.

Dr. Alice G. Bryant has removed to "The Bristol," Copley Square, Boston.

The Hudson Associates will hold their annual ball on Feb. 10, at Music Hall.

Mr. Samuel Sewell said that the Sunday rain spoiled the sleighing in Burlington.

The Benefit Party of Mrs. O'Brien of Ward 6 was postponed and will take place this evening.

Read what our North Woburn correspondent has to say about matters and things this week.

Bear in mind the concert to be given in the Y. M. C. A. course next Thursday evening, Feb. 9.

The National Band Association are arranging for a fair to come off about the middle of April.

J. Durward, Jr., keeps his market filled to the collar-beams with the best of meats, vegetables and fruits.

Official raids on illicit rumshops are not of infrequent occurrence these days. They are mainly successful too.

A good way to make money would be to rent the Woburn Hotel on Bennett street and open a high toned boarding house.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Equal Suffrage League will be held Feb. 6, in the Y. M. C. A. parlor, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Daniel Sullivan, the faithful Pleasant street gatekeeper, has been housed with illness for a month, but is up and out again.

The Slattery Dramatic Club are incubating an entertainment that will knock them all higher than a kite. They are the boys to do it.

The City Clerk's quarters will be moved to the old Police office in Municipal Building when the same has been suitably remodeled.

The brisk rain storm last Sunday afternoon knocked out the sleighing in great shape. Monday's warm sun caused us to need to finish the job.

The Leather Setters will hold a special meeting at Porter's Hall this evening at 7 o'clock. Important business will come before the meeting.

Aberjona Colony, P. F., will give their annual ball on next Wednesday evening, Feb. 8. Preparations are on an extensive scale are being made for it.

Lowell alleged playactors and vocalists are hitting Woburn hard these times. It is a question whether they are the more successful as financiers or artists.

A little skimming of frozen mist fell on Wednesday night which made sleighs slip along as smooth as oil on Thursday forenoon and the same was improved.

C. M. Strout has done a fine business in heating and cooking stoves this winter. No wonder at it—the weather has been right for the trade and Strout keeps the goods.

Miss Emma Fosdick's banjo, mandolin and guitar concerts have been a prominent musical event for several seasons in this city. Another will be given on Feb. 21.

The present address of Mr. Fred W. Ellis, son of Mr. Alexander Ellis of the "Railroad Store," is now at Durango, Mexico, where he has contracts in railroad building. He is well and happy.

Mr. W. H. Cummings, the well-known builder, is preparing for brisk real estate business this spring. He sees signs which convince him that there will be a great deal of building here this season.

On account of ill health Major Wilson of the H. S. B. has resigned. It is expected that the vacancy will be filled by the election of Capt. Charles O'Brien, who will fill the bill to a dot, for he is a young gent of soldierly bearing.

The Assistant Editor of the Journal runs his department with horse and foot power and any lady wanting her scissors sharpened in the latest style cannot do better than hail his perambulating machinist shop and give him the job.

The Methodist Men of Woburn have a notice of a supper, etc., in this paper, which ought to be carefully read. It is brimful of meaning—good meaning too. In quantity and quality these Methodist Men guarantee satisfaction or money refunded.

Without pretending to know very much about it we should say that the "Night Luncheon" card that came out from Boston last Tuesday and has been doing business on the Common this week must find exceedingly poor picking. But it is a novelty, all the same.

Our new City Clerk, Mr. E. H. Lounsbury, keeps the office open for business during the hours of the day and evening prescribed by the ordinances. Nobody need have the least fear but that Mr. Lounsbury will discharge the duties of City Clerk just exactly right.

The Lewis Music School musical on last Tuesday evening was one of the best ever given by that institution. A choice audience from Woburn and Winchester gathered at the Board of Trade Rooms to enjoy it and were highly pleased with the programme and its presentation.

Many thought it strange that the fog was not run up at half-mast in this city on the death and burial of James G. Blaine as a token of respect to his memory. President Harrison saw differently and ordered the public buildings in Washington to be draped in mourning for 30 days.

Editor Barnstead of the Stoneham News offered this office with a call on Wednesday morning and the office fell better for it. He is such a light-hearted, lively optimist, and with such a good talker, that a visit from him is always a delight to the Journal people, and so it was last Wednesday.

The alleged "cake-walk" in the ring last Thursday evening week was a sore disappointment to the immense crowd assembled there. It was a cake-walk in a horn, only four couples of colored people taking part in it. It was said by some to be a sell it but the hoodlums got their money's worth and right change back. Many of Woburn's 4000 were present anticipating something "rich, rare and racy." They were quite roiled up over the matter. The men who got it up made a pocketful of wealth.

The days have increased in length 1 hour and 2 minutes.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS. More new names were added to the subscription list of the JOURNAL last month than any other January in the last five years. The average reader likes a bright, breezy, and always reliable local paper, and the JOURNAL fills the bill to a dot. Hence its recent handsome increase of subscribers.

— Mr. Jacob A. Han ex-Alderman and a very likely citizen, barring the brand of politics he uses, is interested in a lucrative Boston business and is also a partner in the firm of Jaquith & Co., millers. Heretofore he has been a successful politician, but it is not generally thought that he ever made a cent in it. His business success is gratifying to the JOURNAL.

— Our old friend, Mr. B. C. Golden, Superintendent of the Bader, Adams & Co. Glue Works at Montvale, handed in his annual report to the JOURNAL office last Tuesday, which was accepted, adopted, and will aid in the execution of a programme of the highest quality. Tickets for the concert will be on sale at Whitcher's drugstore on and after next Tuesday, Feb. 7.

— Mr. Edw. C. Leathé has started something new in this city, and it is going to win. At No. 496 Main St., Mann Block, Mr. Leathé has opened a store for the sale and rent of bicycles and will keep always on hand a full stock of first-class new flyers and all kinds of second-hand ones, with all the goods and fixings that go with them on which he is bound to do business. It is a neat move, and Leathé is the man to make it a success of it. He has a pleasant store, to an examination of the Metropolis only a few days. Probably Miss Bancroft's classes will enjoy the drugstore on and after next Tuesday, Feb. 7.

— Charlie Cooper, the young gentleman who is looking after Miss Shiehan's interests in the Boston Globe coupon contest, was struck by a double-rounder on Scott street the other day and was quite seriously injured.

— Miss Mertens Bancroft, the successful piano teacher of Boston and Woburn, will start to-morrow afternoon in New York City where she expects to visit friends for a fortnight or so. Her father, Mr. P. E. Bancroft, will accompany her but will remain at the Metropolis only a few days. Probably Miss Bancroft's classes will enjoy the drugstore on and after next Tuesday, Feb. 7.

— The entertainment given by the Salvation Army last week was in the highest degree satisfactory to all concerned.

It lasted two evenings and on each an interesting programme was given. A fine band furnished the very best of music, and there was a large attendance all through. The Army has done a good work here, and are still rescuing the perishing. They and their work should be encouraged.

— The Friday Night Club have in store a unique and extremely fine entertainment for the delectation of the people of Woburn, concerning which more may be learned by referring to their advertisement in our business columns. It is more than suspected that an accomplished young lady of this city who is graduate from the Boston College of Oratory and has a reputation of being an elocutionist of the first merit, will read several pieces at the entertainment, which fact alone will probably attract a large audience.

The transfer of Capt. Charles Jolley to this camp has infused new life into it and the meetings are much more interesting than they had for some time been.

The Army have done a good work here, and are still rescuing the perishing.

"I am convinced of the merit of Hood's Sarapilla, after having taken it a few doses"—this is what many people say.

Boston and Maine's Chief.

W. K. Niver has been chosen Vice-President of the Boston and Maine Railway. He will assume his duties at once and all heads of departments will report to him. His position is similar to that of Manager, formerly held by James T. Furber.

Mr. Niver is 49 years of age, and has spent his life in railroad work. He was in the service of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road from 1872 to 1883. He then entered the service of the Reading system, and for the last three years has been located at Buffalo in charge of the line from Couston and the coal regions. It is his new position he will be the official representative in Boston of President McLeod.

What's the use using a man where he got that couch? He can't tell you. And what's the difference anyway? Tell him to go and buy a bottle of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam and use it.

North Woburn.

A sale and supper will be given at the Unitarian Chapel under the auspices of the ladies of that society on next Thursday evening, Feb. 9. During the evening an entertainment will be given by the young people.

The venerable and venerated Rev. Leander Thompson has kept his house pretty close this winter. We have quite a number of very old people in Ward 6, and the most of them are very well.

Coughing Leads to Consumption. Kemp's Balsam stops the cough at once.

WINCHESTER.

Mr. E. D. Bangs and family are living at Hotel Victoria in Boston.

Mr. Herbert Dwinnell is improving and will soon be sound and well again.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Wian have gone to Southern California for the winter.

Mr. Samuel S. Symmes has gone to Georgia to spend the balance of the winter.

The regular gymnasium class for young men is held at 7:45 Tuesday, instead of Friday, evenings.

George E. Davenport will deliver his illustrated lecture on the Fells in Winchester 7:45 Tuesday evening, Feb. 7.

Last week's STAR contained a sensible editorial on the wisdom of building permanent streets in town until the sewerage system is completed two years hence.

The report of Chief of Police Richardson of Winchester shows that nearly 500 tramps have been lodged in the past year. Two years ago the number was 400, and last year the total was 433.

Mr. James C. Kelley of Chicago, and brother to Mr. Daniel W. Kelley of the firm of Winn & Kelley, died in that city the first of the week from dropsy. He was a native of Woburn, and the remains were brought there for interment. He was 39 years of age, married but had no children.

Unless I am dreadfully out of gear in my calculations there is going to be the biggest rattling among dry bones at our next Town Meeting that this town ever saw. More than 40 guns are loaded to the muzzle with speeches, motions, counter-motions, orders, points of order, suggestions, "few remarks" and—VOTES, and just as soon as the meeting is opened they will begin to "go off" in the most amazing manner. It is going to be a "fever fit" which will end in the greatest overturn ever witnessed by the Horrors of Insomnia.

Literary Notices.

The February number of DONAHOE'S MAGAZINE is a fine one from both a literary and art point of view. It shows plainly the vigor of the young blood that has lately been infused into its veins in every department. In all respects it compares favorably with the leading magazines of the day and bears intrinsic evidence of the rare business capacity and literary skill of its new manager, Mr. THOMAS C. QUINN. Unquestionably DONAHOE'S has a bright career before it.

The February NEW ENGLAND MAGAZINE opens with an excellent description of the literary awakening in Chicago; the article is written by William Morton Payne. Arthur Lord contributes an account of The Pilgrims Church in Plympton. Nathan Haskell Dole pays a tribute to the memory of John Greenleaf Whittier, in a poem, Prophets. Charles M. Andrews takes his readers into a Biographical Path through New England History. Herbert M. Sylvester continues his series of pen pictures in part four of Ye Romance of Casey Bay, dealing with Stogumber. Walter Blackburn Harte contributes About Critics and Criticism; With other Matters Incidental and Irrelevant, Fayal; A Far-off Bright Azores, is contributed by Rose Dabney and Hester Cunningham. Frank Baily Millard writes a brilliant study of rural life in California, called A Note in a Principality. Helen Campbell continues John Belhantyne, American. Louise R. Baker contributes The Girls of Danger; and Ada Marie Peck has a bright character sketch called Nesbitt. John Ernest McCann is represented with some pretty verses, Little Dames and Men. Arthur L. Salmon contributes If I Should Meet Thee. Among the other poets of the number are Newton Marshall Hall, William Ordway Partridge, James Buckham and Edward A. Ulling. Valentine, who tells us in musical verses the Horrors of Insomnia.

Rev. Charles H. Washburn of Falmouth, Mass., will lecture in the Burlington Y. P. S. C. E. Course at the Burlington church next Tuesday, Feb. 7, at 7:45 P. M.

The lecture on "Slavery in New England" by Mr. Abram E. Brown of Bedford, postponed from Dec., will be given on Feb. 14. Mr. Brown is engaged to deliver this lecture in Northfield, Mass., at an early date. All members of Burlington public school will be admitted to this lecture for 5¢ each.

Tuesday evening of this week, Mrs. Curtis gave us a lecture on "Old Times in Burlington." Mrs. Curtis is always at home in the room of historical study and she has made a specialty of the early history of Burlington. Then too, few speakers are more at home on the platform than she is and she has a pleasing way of handling her subject. There was a goodly number present.

A SHORT FABLE FOR MEN.
An Imaginative Conversation That Might Have Taken Place.

Once there was a widower left with three children who concluded instead of reviving to take a bachelor brother to superintend his house and be as far as he could a house parent to the little ones.

"If you come to me," says widower John, "I will do as well by you as I did by Mary. You shall reign supreme in my home, and I will lay my fortune at your feet."

"Fortune; where is it?" says innocent bachelor William. "Will you make it over to me in writing?"

"I mean," says John, explaining, "that I will provide the table liberally, dress you handsomely, get you meerschaums and canes, and generally do my best to make you happy."

"But that wouldn't do," says bachelor William. "I have never been considered extravagant in my habits, but I can imagine desires to arise which neither meerschaums, canes, nor unlimited credit at my tailor's would wholly cover."

"Oh, don't be afraid," says the widower kindly. "If you learn how to coax as well as Mary did, you will get no end of odd change to spend in your little vanities. You are my youngest brother, and I have always been fond of you. Just 'lay your sweet hands in mine and trust to me.'

"It wouldn't do," says William; "it would kill my self-respect. I would rather have $500 a month at my own disposal than $500 dribbled out to me for the asking."

"I am disappointed in you, brother," said the kind widower. "I had thought that there was such a beautiful fraternal relation between us that you would be above caring which of us held the money. Mary didn't mind."

"Are you so sure of that?" said the bachelor brother, thoughtfully—Working Woman's Journal.

FOR ALL GOOD CITIZENS TO HEED.

We have before us the annual report of Mr. Lovegrove, surveyor to the board of works for the Hackney district. Among the special points touched on in the report we find a comment on the disfigurement of the streets by loose paper, a nuisance which in many districts of London requires checking with a strong hand. Mr. Lovegrove says: "The sources of supply are loose paper from hoardings; tradesmen's circulars received by passersby only to be thrown in the road, and often scattered by handfuls from a cart driving rapidly along the streets, also thrown away by tradesmen and street hawkers." Men are employed, at the cost of the ratepayers, in clearing away much of this, but shortly after clearance the street is as full of paper again. It is observed at the dust cart shoot that often one-third of the load consists of paper. In some districts the dust men are ordered not to take paper, this coming under the head of articles which ought to be burned in the house. Some stringent legislation on this subject seems necessary, though it must be admitted there might be difficulty in applying it—London Builder.

Mustache Dye Taken Internally.

Having been appointed a ward detective he bought a gallon of black dye for his mustache. The man he bought it from was a basement barber, who was just going to enter into an explanation of how it should be applied, when the detective waved him off, saying that he knew.

After three weeks he returned to the barber shop for another gallon. His mustache looked quite as red as when he started.

"I mean to keep at it" he said, "though it seems a little hopeless. I suppose some mustaches dye faster than others. I've been drinking a tablespoonful in water three times a day. Guess I'll have to double the dose."—New York Herald.

Jews, Not Hebrews.

The word Hebrew now has but one meaning, and that is dead language. We are Jews because we are adherents of the Jewish religion. Our religion is the only mark of distinction between us and other citizens of this country.

There is an impression in the minds of many non-Jews, and even some Jews, that it is courtesy to call us Hebrews, thus implying that there is some stigma attached to the name of Jew. We are Jews, not Hebrews or Israelites.—Jewish Tidings.

Doesn't Like Her Own Photographs.

Miss Ellen Terry has, no fancy for seeing herself depicted in different characters, and no portraits of this kind adorn her walls. "It is enough," she says, "to see my photo scattered about the house of a friend of mine. It really made me quite wretched the last time I was there. There I was weeping in her bedroom and mad in her dining room, and in her parlor I was actually dying in three different positions."—New York Sun.

A Troublesome Age.

"Goodness me, Wallace," cried his uncle, "you are getting to be a big fellow. Nearly eight now, aren't you?"

"Guess so," said Wallace. "Papa says I'm worse than a dozen."—Harrison's Young People.

Offering a Suggestion.

King Frederick William III of Prussia was often humorous in doing a kind act. A lackey, who had been discovered after the annual dejeuner dansant to have partaken of some red wine by the stains on his white livery, had been summarily dismissed. He placed himself in the king's way and fell on his knees, asking forgiveness. The king granted him his pardon, adding, "Why did you not drink white?"—San Francisco Argonaut.

How Sound Travels.

THE HOUSE FINISHED

LESSON VI, FIRST QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, FEB. 5.

Text of the Lesson, Ex. vi, 14-32—Memory Verses 31, 32—Golden Text, Ps. cxii, 1—Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

SOME INSIDE HISTORY IN FEMININE LIVES.

14. "And the elders of the Jews builded, and they laid the stones, and the people, the prophet and Zechariah, the son of Iddia." Our last lesson in this book was in the third chapter, where we read of the laying of the foundation of the Lord's house and of the joy of the people. Then followed the work and counsel of Jesus (iv, 4, 5, 24). In chapter v, 1, we are introduced to the two prophets named in this first verse of our lesson, and in the rest of chapter v and the next chapter Zechariah and the prophet told the secret of the work. Observe the secret of their success in chapter v, 5. "The eye of their God was upon the elders of the Jews." Compare this with the encouraging words of Hag. ii, 4. "Be ye strong, be brave, stand up, and work for I am with you, saith the Lord of Hosts. My Spirit remaineth among you. Fear ye not."

15. "And this house was finished." The God of Israel had commanded it and had moved upon the hearts of the kings to assist His people. (Prov. viii, 22.) "Prophets, and clowns."—"Be cloth according to His will in the army of heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth, and none can stay His hand, or say unto Him, 'What dost Thou?' (Dan. viii, 13.) "The house of the Massah" is an occasion to fear or to be disengaged, for the work is His, and He cannot fail. (Isa. xl, 4; Math. xvii, 18.) Our place of rest is to remember that "we are labored together with God" (1 Cor. viii, 9), but He is the employer.

16. "And the children of Israel, the priests and the Levites, and the rest of the captives, kept the dedication of this house of God with joy and gladness, and with thanksgiving, and with the presence of God in their midst, and consequently peace and prosperity and victory over all enemies. Let them make Me a sanctuary, that I may dwell among them" (Ex. xxv, 8), were God's words to Moses. "I will be there to meet you and to hold the tabernacle." "I have hollowed this house which then hast built to my name there forever, and Mine eyes and Mine heart shall be there perpetually" (1 Kings ix, 3) were God's words to Solomon. "I have dwelt with God in humility and obedience she would have continued her head among all nations, because of the presence of the Lord, until this day. The building of this temple of Zerubbabel indicated a great opportunity to have it, so that they are full of joy."

17. "And for a sin offering for all Israel, twelve live goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel." Bullocks, rams and lambs were the burnt offering, which was to be offered for sins, and the sin offering, but the goat was the sin offering. See the full statement repeated at least eight times in Num. xxix. The sin offering, typifying Christ bearing our sins in His own body, was the way to salvation, and for before we can receive God or anything pleasing in His sight we must obtain the forgiveness of sins through the merits of His one great sacrifice (Lev. xvii, 11; Heb. ix, 11, 12; Acts, xiii, 39, 30). The Levites in their course of service sacrificed Christ, and the aspect of it which we see Him as an offering and sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savour (Eph. v, 2). The meat offering is suggestive of His holy and spotless life. Being forever a priest, he is to offer to God all he holds a living sacrifice. That he may live His life in us. On the phrase "All Israel" see 1 Chr. xxi, 1; Rom. xi, 26; Ezek. xxxvii, 22.

18. "And they offered sacrifices in the division of the Levites in their courses of service of God which is at Jerusalem, as it is written in the book of Moses." The Levites were a gift for the Lord to do the service for the tabernacle and temple. They were chosen to stand before Him, to serve His altar, and to minister in His service (Num. xxxi, 6; II Chr. xxix, 11). The priests' lips should keep knowledge, and the people should seek the law at His mouth, for He is the messenger of the truth, and the herald of the gospel.

19. "And the children of the captivity kept the passover upon the fourteenth day of the first month." By faith Moses kept the passover and the sprinkling of blood, lest H<sup>t</sup>s destroyed the firstborn should smite them (Ex. xii, 13). And when the Israelites had remembered the deliverance from Egypt, but there is now drawing nigh a deliverance from Russia and from all nations that call far out the deliverance of the Israelites from Egypt (Ex. xii, 33-38). Then shall we understand the words of the Lord Jesus in reference to His last passover. "I will not any more eat thereof until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of Israel" (see Matt. xxvi, 29).

20. "The priests and the Levites were purified together, all of them were pure." There was a ceremonial purification necessary to the keeping of the passover, and in the days of Hezekiah we read that they kept it on the second instead of the first day, because the first day was not sufficiently sanctified (II Chron. xxx, 2, 3; compare Num. ix, 10, 11). If we would enjoy Christ, our Passover, who has been sacrificed for us, we must cleanse ourselves from all uncleanness of the flesh and spirit, perfect holiness in the fear of God (1 Cor. v, 7; II Cor. viii, 12).

21. "All such as had separated themselves into them from the filthiness of the land to seek the Lord of Israel, and when Christ is seen in us and not self, people will be drawn away from the follies and infidelities of the world, and the seed of those who have been living in the land and when they saw the temple built and the worship of the true God established joined themselves to Israel. Shall it be in the days that are coming, when the world is to be delivered to Jesus? We will go with you, for God is with you (Zech. viii, 23). So is it now, when Christ is seen in us and not self, people will be drawn away from the follies and infidelities of the world, and the seed of those who have been living in the land and when they saw the temple built and the worship of the true God established joined themselves to Israel. It Tastes Good

One reason why Scott's Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda has had such a large sale is because it is "Almost as palatable as milk;" but the best reason is that its curative properties are unequalled. It cures the cough, supplies the waste of tissues, produces flesh and builds up the entire system.

Scott's Emulsion cures Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Scrofula, and all Anaemic and Wasting Diseases. Prevents wasting in Children. Almost as palatable as milk. Only the genuine. Prepared by Scott & Bowie, Chemists, New York. Sold by all Druggists.

Boston Theatres.
BOSTON MUSEUM.

A New Exhibit—A—On Monday evening Feb. 20 James A. Herne's powerful New England play of "Shore-Aces," warmly endorsed by W. D. Howells as a worthy companion picture to "The Old Homestead" and "The County Fair," will open the program. This is the first time in that play. Mr. Herne has laid the scenes of his play on the picturesque shores of Frenchman's Bay, near Mt. Desert, Me., and his people and incidents have the peculiar characteristics of that locality. The plot is simple, the setting in plot, and there are many realistic mechanical effects which will be given with that correctness of detail for which the Museum is famous. New and beautiful scenery has been painted especially for this play, and there will be a number of elaborate scenic illusions, among them the change from a lighthouse interior to the rocks and ocean, with a storm-tossed vessel in the foreground. "Shore-Aces" promises to be the most noted drama of the season. The author, Mr. Herne, the author, and Mr. William Harris have been especially engaged for the cast, and Mr. George Wilson plays for the east, and Mr. George Wilson plays for the west. The play is a strong character study.

THE TREMONT.

Neil Burgess was given a grand reception on Monday evening. "The County Fair" seemed new and fresh and one would not think it ran last season at the Park a third time. The scenes were new and now used in the racing scenes, and several new improvements have been made. Only four weeks engagement and to secure good seats order early.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Two men remarkable in many respects will begin an engagement at the Grand Opera House next Monday evening. The wonderful physical and facial resemblance of W. D. Howells and William Harris is a source of wonderment. It is said to be impossible to tell them apart on the stage. Their play, "The Operator," is one of the big financial and artistic successes of the season. It teems with thrilling interest and is a play of great strength.

THE BOWDOIN SQUARE.

"A Nutmeg Match" will be the attraction next week with the new additions that have been made since it was produced here, it will make a more brilliant entertainment. The cast contains leading artists, many of them great favorites. "Old Jed Prouty" is drawing full houses and can only be seen the remainder of this week. Mr. Richard Golden's impersonation of the Tinker is a great success, and the price of the seats. "A Nutmeg Match," no full of life and vim, will remain only next week. Matines Wednesday and Saturday.

THE PARK.

The old, old story at the Park—full houses, great fun and an evening of rare enjoyment is what "A Temperance Town" offers. Next week will be the 11th, and still the Park theatre is crowded at each performance. Hoyt's plays are so full of interest, spiced with humor, and based on facts, that all who know of him wish to see them.

THE BOSTON.

"The Country Circus," owned by C. B. Jefferson, was presented at the Boston theatre on Monday evening and the engagement bids fair to eclipse the former one. To witness a circus upon the stage would have seemed a fairy tale some years ago but now go to the circus every week at the Boston theatre without warning for gentle spring. The wrestling pony, Marlow & Dunham, the greatest horizontal bar performers, Wm. Demot, champion bare back rider, Burke brothers, pantomime, and an endless variety of new feats and specialties are to be seen.

THE GLOBE.

Francis Wilson is doing a wonderful turn in "The Globe" or "The Lambs." Only one more week remains with this grand production and as this is the first engagement of Mr. Wilson in two years a return engagement cannot be expected for some time to come. "The Lion Tamer" is a tale of the African jungle. Act I, Marables, Drowsing tent of the Lions. Act II, Scene 1, Chapel of Count Vergilius. Act III, Scene 2, Public Square, Bastia, Corsica. It is the latest comic opera success.

THE HOLLYS.

The second week of the leading success, "The Masked Ball," is drawing to a close and next week will be the last of the engagement of Mr. J. Drew in it. The Little Theatre has had a brilliant as well as a fashionable audience during its engagement and the reception given Mr. Drew and his excellent company must have been very gratifying to him. Miss Maude Adams is a favorite here. Her work is very beautiful, indeed. Mr. John Drew and company, under the management of Charles Frohman, is a decided success.

THE COLUMBIA.

The reception given "1492" at the Columbia on Monday evening can hardly be described. It was a grand affair and the price was never presented in a more creditable manner. Manager Rice is "up to date," and the audience is equal to the play. "In New York" and "Chappies" were the hit of the evening. On last Wednesday evening a most beautiful souvenir was given to the audience, everyone said the anniversary night was a grand affair. # THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1893.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, FEB. 17, 1893.

TREASURER'S NOTICE.
The JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 195 Main Street; Charles R. Brown, 155 Main Street; John Cummings, 2d, Cummingsville; Samuel E. Wyman, A. Hamlin, North Woburn, and at G. P. Brown's Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

"WHEN DOCTORS DISAGREE," ETC.

The Boston papers are far from being in accord on the question of the condition of the Woburn Almshouse as respects safety from fire. On one side the institution is pronounced a firetrap; on the other that it is one of the safest in the State.

People who have given the buildings a thorough examination differ on the question as widely as the Boston papers. Some, including Mayor Richardson, Inspector Ferrin and other city authorities, claim that the "Globe's" "scare" was groundless; other inspectors maintain that the lives of the inmates are in constant jeopardy.

The "Globe" article served one good purpose—it aroused public interest and forced an official examination.

This is a matter that won't bear trifling with. Nothing short of absolute protection to the unfortunate inmates of the Almshouse will satisfy the people. There must be no second edition of the horrible Dover tragedy here in Woburn. If there is the least doubt about the condition of the buildings the subject must be remedied until all defects are remedied. Paupers have rights and humanity demands that they shall be protected.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

We confess our inability to understand the whys and wherefores of some of the acts and measures of the Woburn Common Council. When President Sullivan insists on a fair division of the public printing we experience no trouble at all in comprehending the fact that he means the JOURNAL shall receive fair play from the city authorities. There is where he is right, and his course in this respect meets with the JOURNAL's hearty approval.

But when it comes to rejecting such faithful public servants as John R. Carter for the Water Board and E. Prior for the Board of Assessors we are puzzled. If there has ever been a word of fault found with either of these officers it has escaped our ears. They enjoy the reputation of having discharged the duties of their positions with ability and fidelity, which makes their rejection by the Common Council all the more inexplicable.

There is a rumor current that the Council intend in due time to reconsider their action and vote to retain Carter and Prior in their old places and very likely it has a good foundation to rest on.

LET IT ALONE.

Faxon, the eccentric, who unsuccessfully aspires to leadership in the cause of temperance reform in this State, is sowing broadcast printed matter, erroneously dubbed arguments, against what is commonly known as the "drunk law" and is employing other means to compass its repeal.

It is gratifying to be informed that the present Legislature are not inclined to accept Faxon as an exponent of public opinion or repeat the law a forecast at his request. His vanity is unbounded, but it is a good thing that the Legislature do not value him at the figures which he places on himself.

It is not at all probable that the present Legislature will repeat or materially modify the "drunk law," but Faxon will not have spent his money in vain—he will have accomplished his main object which was to keep Faxon's name before the public and prevent its falling into "innocuous desuetude."

BIENNIAL ELECTIONS.

Hearings have been lately held at the State House on the matter of submitting a constitutional amendment to change the State elections from annual to biennial to a popular vote in which a good deal of interest was manifested.

It is likely, however, that anything will be done, for is not the Legislature greater than the people? And are not the politicians all in favor of annual elections?

FAST DAY.

The JOURNAL was a little "previous" in announcing the abolition of Fast Day by the Legislature last week. On sober second thought it was deemed best not to meddle with it, and so the old New England custom still stands.

WE have received from Senator Charles S. Parker of the Arlington Advocate a copy of "The Transactions of the Massachusetts Press Association, Constitution and List of Members," also a description of the annual excursion for 1892. Thanks.

GETTING SQUARE.

How a Circus Attendant Got Even with a Cranky Skeleton.

The general public is not acquainted with the manner in which some employees are hired for a circus. Some of the situations in the "side show" are interesting, and in order to retain the right man in a place he is hired with what is called a "hold back"; that is, he is to receive, for instance, fifty dollars a month salary but gets only fifteen dollars a month, the other thirty-five dollars being retained until the close of the circus season, when it is always paid to him in a lump.

Messrs. Hagan and Henshaw, the managers of the "side show" of the Barnum circus, have always had considerable difficulty in getting a man to stay the season out and take care of the living skeleton, owing to the general "cussedness" of all such "freaks." In the case of the skeleton he had to be carried to and from every performance, to meals, etc., in storm, rain and hot weather, and the attendant was compelled to bear all the grumblings and complaints of the skeleton with the added phase of ill temper and abuse.

One season when the show closed and the attendant of the skeleton had received all the money due him for the season's work, including his "hold back," he felt as if he would like to square accounts with the skeleton; so, after the last performance, taking the skeleton in his arms, he carried him, not to the sleeping car, but away off in the fields, and placing him beside a fence left him there with the remark: "There! You have abused me all summer, and now, darn you, I'll get square. You can stay where you are until I come for you next season."

After an hour or two the skeleton was missed, and all hands were sent in search for him; when at 4 o'clock in the morning he was found lying in the wet grass chilled to the marrow, as it was an easy thing to chill him to the bone, owing to the absence of flesh.—New York Tribune.

Dangerous Bacteria.

All bacteria feast upon organic matter, and develop in great numbers in fermenting solutions of it. Their number is generally approximately proportional to the impurity, and therefore may represent the relative danger of potable waters. A water that contains a large number of them should not be used for drinking without first being boiled. By boiling polluted water for half an hour all the infectious (but not the harmless) bacteria in it will be destroyed. If it is then filtered to remove the vegetable substances, and aerated to render it potable such water can be used with perfect safety for drinking.

Since the infectious bacteria are the agents of all filth diseases, it should be the aim in all sanitary analysis of water to determine whether they have actual existence in the water, or, what answers the same purpose, to determine the conditions favorable for their development. Whenever a chemical analysis reveals the presence of sewage in a water its use should be discontinued for drinking.—Engineering Magazine.

The Division of Saliva.

When the engines of the big liner, the City of Paris, on her way from New York to Liverpool, broke down several hundred miles off the Irish coast on March 25, 1890, the little steamship Ohio, although unable, by reason of a shortage of coal, to tow the big ship into a harbor, stood by her for eleven hours, until the freighter Aldersgate, from Galveston to Liverpool, came along and made lines fast to tow her to Liverpool.

In the affair of salvage, amounting to $40,500, the Ohio received $3,000, although she had really rendered no aid. The balance was given to the owners and crew of the Aldersgate, the owners receiving $30,625, the crew $4,625, and the master $2,250.—New York Evening Sun.

A Fatal Weapon.

The eminent naturalist, the late Frank Buckland, when a surgeon in the Second Life guards, was one day called to attend to a trooper who had blown his brains out with a pistol. The man died, and some time afterward a belief in luck, either good or bad, prompted Buckland to inquire what had become of the weapon. The colonel showed him the firearm readily, but laughed when Buckland declared that he thought it would be best to destroy the fatal weapon. Nevertheless only a short time after Buckland was called to attend to the colonel's servant, who had attempted to kill himself with the very same pistol.—London Tit-Bits.

Making Lemonade.

"I learned a new thing," said a woman recently, "while visiting an English friend who is living in this country. We had a small dance one evening of my stay, and my hostess served the most delicious lemonade I ever drank. I spoke of it the next day, and she told me it was made with freshly boiled water—the secret, she said, of thoroughly good lemonade.

"I have a regular rule," she further informed me, "which insures success if I am making a quart or a gallon. For a quart I take the juice of three lemons, using the rind of one of them. I am careful to peel the rind very thin, getting just the yellow outside; this I cut into pieces and put with the juice and powdered sugar, of which I use two ounces to the quart, in a jug or jar with a cover. When the water is just at the tea point I pour it over the lemon and sugar, cover at once and let it get cold. Try this way once, and you will never make it any other way!"—Her Point of View in New York Times.

Anxious to Sell.

Miss De Classic—I should like to look at some music; not new music, like this on the counter, but old music—real old.

Store, Boy (anxious to assist)—Yes'm. That on th' top shelf is jus' black with my specks, an' I guess they'll sell it cheap—Good News.

Generous.

"Can't you let me have a trifle, ma'am?" said the tramp. "I'm tight starved."

"I haven't any trifles today," said the kind woman, "but there is a little angel cake that will do."—Harper's Bazaar.

ALMOST BEYOND BELIEF.

Things Often Happen That We Can Scarcely Credit.

This is One of Them, and We Give It to Our Readers.

IT MAY SEEM REMARKABLE, BUT WE KNOW THAT IT IS ALL TRUE.

A strange tale comes to us from Chapman, N. Y., where the principal in the absorbingly interesting account came very near not being alive to tell the story.

It would seem that well known resident Mr. Wilson, Barber, White by name, fell ill. Now illness is a common thing, but not so that of Mr. Wilson, as he says himself, now that the danger is all over.

"I cannot describe how I fell or what I suffered."

"I seemed to be at first mostly in my head. I could not think easily; my head felt dull and strange, and I was tired and weak all over."

"I knew my nerves were weak and prostrated, and I had dyspepsia terribly. Why, I could scarcely eat anything from day to another."

"I could not sleep nights, and wake mornings feeling weak, tired and dragged out. It came near being my death stroke, but you don't need to know what the God would have done."

"Can you believe it, I lived and suffered like this for a whole year!"

MR. BARNEY WILSON.

And then I had become about helpless. I saw the advertisement of a medicine, Dr. Green's Sarsaparilla, and never failed. I prepared some from the druggist at once, and before I had taken two bottles I was so much better that I was astonished!

"I continued its use and now I feel much better, and am able to live a full life. I can truly say that it not been for Dr. Green's Nervous Blood and nerve remedy I should now be in my grave."

"I have recommended this wonderful remedy to many of my friends. I cannot speak highly of this great medicine, and earnestly recommend it to all who are suffering from disease."

"Adam and Eve were no doubt the originators of the Fenian organization, the first people that ever resorted to the wearing of the green. But, on this their domestic troubles began."

"The woman's favorite son was killed with a club, and married women even to this day seem to have an instinctive horror of clubs. The first woman learned that it was Cain that raised the club. Woman has since learned it is a club that raises Cain."—New York World.

Ancient Worship of Animals.

The figures of the gods in ancient Egypt were represented on the monuments for ages in animal form. The organization of the local population ran on totem lines. Each city had different beast gods. In the royal genealogies, beasts are named as ancestors showing that the early Egyptians actually considered themselves descendants of animals. The primitive element in the early Greek religion has been preserved in the "sacred chapters," fragments of which have been given us by Herodotus, Pausanias and others—proving that the oldest images of the Grecian gods were represented in animal form, and that the different royal houses claimed descent from animals, as do the savages of America and Australia.

Mr. J. McLeaven, in his papers on "The Worship of Plants and Animals," calls our attention to many evidences that the early Romans as well as the Greeks worshipped totemic animals.

"For the Indians were so fond of their totemic animals that they shall partake it."

FRIDAY, FEB. 24, 1893.

TUR JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 103 Main Street, Charles R. Brown, 165 Main Street, John Cummings, 53, Cummingsville, Samuel E. Wyman, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at G. P. Brown's Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

DR. BARTLETT AND THE SCHOOLS.

Dr. George P. Bartlett wants our schools, and more particularly the School Board, officially investigated. He is dissatisfied with the management of them—so much so that he some time ago removed his son from school here and sent him to a private one at Worcester. He gives good reasons for his course.

Recently Dr. Bartlett has applied to the head of the city government for redress or rather for an investigation of the management of the School Board. Very properly, he wants to know what the Board are doing, if anything, towards remedying the defects in the system of teaching which is said to prevail here. He also wants the Board to show their hand instead of hiding their official proceedings from public gaze by means of their right bower, the ancient and honorable executive session.

The Doctor is in earnest about this. He, with some others, thinks our city schools need thorough overhauling, and he does not propose to let up until something is done.

TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION.

The temperance cause stands rather a poor show for having anything done in its behalf by the present Legislature. Not that the Legislature are unwilling but because professed temperance people do not know what they want; that is to say, they are unable to agree as to what ought and what ought not to be done in the line of enacting new laws or patching up old ones, and in the conflict of opinions the probabilities are strong that nothing at all will be accomplished.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The House last Monday adopted an order to adjourn on May 3. Judging from the tone of the debate on it, it is fair to presume that the order will have but slight effect on the length of the session.

FRIENDS of the late Queen of Hawaii in Washington are scheming to prevent the annexation of the islands to the United States, and a few members of Congress are giving them aid and comfort. If the treaty is not ratified England will have Hawaii within 30 days.

FEMALE Suffrage met with another setback in the Legislature last Tuesday. By a vote of 97 to 88 the House refused to pass the Municipal Bill to a third reading, and that is the end of the matter for this year.

LAWYER O'Leary of this State has been selected by Mr. Cleveland for his Attorney-General.

GOV. Russell and Staff will attend the Inaugural in full uniform. Won't they cut a swat!

There is a fine likeness of Ald. Ellis in the display window of Mr. Copeland's big store.

Of course there was no school on Monday. And the streets were not overrun with girls and boys either.

Postmaster Wyman, very considerately, kept right on doing business at the same old stand all day Wednesday.

There was another big snow storm on Friday night and Saturday. The present one will easily pass for an "old fashioned winter."

Capt. J. C. Larock, Lieut. Wyer and Wade, and Private Madision, have been appointed a committee to swell the ranks of the Mechanic Phalanx.

Mr. S. R. French said that one of the "Porkers" boyz" face last Monday morning while facing the terrible gale. It was the worst storm in 20 years.

An ex-city official objects to the method of clearing the streets of snow. He thinks the Street Railroad Company ought to do it. Sup. Jones, "go for it."

Francis Murphy, the greatest temperance orator of the present day, if measured by the results of his labors, was at Athol the other evening. Why not try to get him to come to Woburn?

(Sup.) Jones had gangs of men shoveling snow all yesterday. In point of snowfall our storm on Wednesday was the biggest of the season. And it's great again in the evening.

Mr. W. H. Griswold, a builder, resides in real estate, is firm in the belief that the real state and building business is going to be livelier than ever here this winter. He says it is in the air.

The electric cars had much difficulty in getting up Converse hill, Salem street, last Sunday morning. The track for a few hundred feet had two inches of ice on it and had to be dug out with picks.

THE DOOR TO THE HOUSE.

There were little sociables in the door
And warmed their little toes,
And did more mischief about the house
Than any one living knows.

They scratched the tables and broke the chairs
And soiled the floor and wall,
For a motto was set above the door,
"There is no room for all."

With the master saw the chief done
He closed it with hope and fear,
And he wrote above instead, "Let none
Save good thoughts enter here."

And the good little thoughts came trooping in
When he drove the others out.

They cleaned the walls and floor they swept the floor,
And sat down above about.

And last of all an angel came
With wings and a shining face,

And above the dove wrote, "Here love
Has found a dwelling place."

Printers' Peculiarities.

A printer may have a bank and quins and never be worth a cent; have caps and small caps and have neither wife nor children. Others may run, but he gets along faster by setting. He may make impressions without eloquence and still tell the truth. Though others cannot stand and set he can stand and do both at the same time; may use furniture and have no dwelling; may make and put away pi, yet never see or eat pie. A human being he may be and a rat at the same time; may handle a shooting iron, yet know aught of a gun, cannon or pistol. He may lay his form on the bed, yet be compelled to sleep on the floor; may use a dagger without shedding blood; from earth may handle stars, and he may have a sheep's foot and never be deformed.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Taking Off the Hat.

If a man is not in the habit of taking off his hat to any woman certainly no individual woman can feel affronted at the omission. But there are times when a woman has reason to feel indignant—for instance, when a young man is more punctilious in lifting his hat when observers are around than he is when no one is in sight.

The inference is that he is being polite for the benefit of other people and not out of respect for the woman he meets. It is usually this same young man who sometimes forgets to lift his hat to his women friends when they happen to be in rainy day costume. Good clothes are evidently at a premium with him.—Manches ter Union.

The Greek Year.

The Greek year consisted of three seasons only. Prometheus enumerates them. "They had no sign," says he, "of winter, of snowy spring, of fruitful summer." In ancient Germany a similar division of the year prevailed, for Tacitus makes the caustic remark that among the Germans winter, spring and summer have a meaning and a name, but to that people the name and blessings of autumn are alike unknown.

It is not likely, then, that our Saxon forefathers were acquainted with the last named season, and our very term autumn is an echo of the Roman tongue.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Laborers of the Andes.

The majority of the laborers in the mountains of Peru are "Cholas," or Indians born in the Sierra. They are found incapable of doing efficient work on the coasts or in the warmer altitudes without a long course of acclimatization. Gangs of these "Cholas" have for special purposes been taken down suddenly from the Sierra to work at altitudes of from 2,000 to 5,000 feet, sickness and fever have resulted from the change.—Nineteenth Century.

Multiples of Nine and Six.

Possibly it was the belief in the supposed influence of nine and six on men's lives that originally gave rise to the custom of granting leases for multiples of seven and nine years.

Never for an even hundred or thousand, for fear of the power of the evil one. Nine, the trinity of the trinities, is the perfect plural, and is credited with mystic properties. As might be supposed, therefore, many superstitions are connected with it.—New York News.

A cause of spindling growth is a lack of air. Plants shut up in the house get sensitive and fail in temperature, but if they are given plenty of fresh air daily, unless the day is very inclement, the plants will thrive and be sturdy.

The term "The Grand Old Man" was first used to designate Mr. Gladstone by Sir William Harcourt, and was heard in 1880 upon the return of the Liberals to power.

READING THE LAW.

LESSON IX, FIRST QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, FEB. 26.

Text of the Lesson, Neh. viii, 1-12—Memorize Verses, 5, 6—Golden Text, Ps. ext., 18—Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Prentiss.

And they spake unto Ezra, the scribe, to bring the book of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel." The temple had been finished, and also the building of the wall; and though the city was large and houses and people few, yet they would without further delay seek to worship the God of Israel according to His law. The water gate was toward the east (iii, 26), and therefore near the temple, for the temple was at the east of the city, facing the Mount of Olives. Ezra was a highly educated man, son of Moses, who had prepared his heart to obey and to do and to teach the Law of the Lord in Israel (Ez. viii, 10).

"And Ezra, the priest, brought the Law of Moses, which he had learned in the school of the House. Keeping knowledge that the people might seek the Law at his mouth (Mal. ii, 7), and Ezra was by his application to the Law of the Lord qualified to teach the people.

"And he read therein from the morning until midday, and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the Law." I wonder how many of an audience he would have in day at the end of the second month? It is a picture of the regular day for the feast of trumpets (Lev. xxiii, 24), to be followed on the tenth day by the great atonement and on the fifteenth day by the feast of tabernacles (Lev. xxii, 34). The priests were to be present on the seventh month.<sup>1</sup> This was the regular day for the feast of trumpets (Lev. xxii, 24). "And Ezra, the scribe, stood upon a pulpit of wood which they had made for the purpose." Elevated above the people that all might see, as well as hear, he stood upon a pulpit of wood which he had built on his right and seven on his left hand, but I have no doubt that the Unseen One who said to Moses, "Certainly I will be with thee," and to Joshua, "As I was with Moses, so I will be with thee," and to Gideon, "Surely I will be with thee" (Ex. iii, 12; Josh. i, 12; Heb. xi, 10), was far more to Ezra than the brethren who were by his side.

"And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people, and when he opened it all the people stood up." With great reverence he read the scroll of the Law, and with reverence the people stood up to hear what the Lord, their God, would say to them. We do not find in the Old Testament any prophet who is therein revealed, save our Saviour and Saviour, and when we open our Bibles to read the words of the living God we should do with great humility.

"And Ezra blessed the Lord, the great God, and they bowed their heads and worshipped him that stood before the ground." If they all meant it in their hearts, then it was true worship; but if any bowed the body only without bowing the soul to God, then He did not regard it; for though He is omnipotent, He is still strong on behalf of those whose hearts are perfect toward Him (II Chron. xv, 9). He looketh on the heart and not on the countenance (I Sam. xv, 7).

"And the Levites caused the people to understand the law." Another thirteen are here mentioned who with the Levites caused the people to understand. To read is good; to understand is better. After Ezra had read the Law, the Levites said that if one does not understand the word the wicked one catcheth it away. He asked the disciples, "Have ye understood all these things?" (Math. xii, 51.) When Philip drew near to the chariot of the Eunuch he said, "Understandest thou what I say?" "Understandest thou what thou readest?" (Acts viii, 30.) If one should ask, "How can I understand?" I should reply, "Through faith we understand" (Heb. xi, 12; 2 Cor. v, 7). Recite it unquestioningly, and thus understand.

The Literator of Old Shoes.

Miss Gray has collected some interesting literature on the subject of old shoes for the use of students. It includes some quaint advertisements clipped from old newspapers in the first part of the present century and toward the end of the last by Mr. Henry M. Brooks of Salem, the scholarly antiquarian and secretary of the Essex Institute. Mr. Brooks has also made for the purpose a number of notes on "Felt's Annals."

Among the information thus given we find that the highest price of men's shoes in 1670 was 5 shillings, for those of women 3s. 8d. In 1672 a committee of Boston, considering that people in low circumstances "will wear no other boots or shoes generally but of the newest fashion and highest price," proposed that a law be passed that no shoemakers should sell to any inhabitants shoes of 11 or 12 sizes above 5 shillings a pair, and so in proportion as to other sizes.—Boston Herald.

Undoubtedly Americans.

How many American boys over 15 kiss their parents? They've outgrown such "soft" demonstrations, and all because they have not been held to the pretty custom.

Anyhow we Americans are curiously undemonstrative among ourselves. I have seen men—brothers—parting who were thrilled by the strongest motives toward each other, and somehow they seemed as helpless as dumb animals in expressing it.

Each knew how the other felt, of course, but only because he knew what he felt himself. He couldn't say anything, because he was a man and an Anglo-Saxon.—Washington Post.

The Old Time Skipper.

Inmates of the wardroom on an American man-of-war often allude to the captain as the old man or the skipper. The latter is not, as many suppose, a slang term, but a sound word, of excellent etymology, and valuable as carrying within itself an interesting bit of commercial history. Skipper is simply shipper, and it comes down from a time when every commander was as well part owner of vessel and cargo, or literally, the skipper. There are still scores of local shipyards along the Atlantic coast, some of them the outgrowth of private yards where the "vessel owners" of fifty years ago built their own ships to carry their own and their neighbors' crops to market.—New York Sun.

ORIGIN OF A SLANG PHRASE.

A Politician Tells How "To Eat Crow"

Passed Into the Language.

The origin of the expression "to eat crow" caused some dispute in an up town clubhouse one evening recently, and one white headed old politician accounted for it in this way:

"Years ago," he said, "a soldier stationed on Governor's island wandered up into the city and out upon the pasture lands just north of Chambers street to have some fun. There he spied a crow hopping about among the cows, and he instantly aimed his gun at it and shot it dead. As he did so a ragged little boy, who had been watching him dashed off with a wild yell in the direction of a distant house. The soldier laughed at what he thought to be the boy's terror at the report of the gun, and laying it down carefully at the foot of the tree went to pick up the crow.

"After that something else attracted his attention, and he did not think of his gun again till he heard an angry voice behind him, and turning around he himself gazing straight down the barrel. A furious Dutchman was at the other end of the gun. The soldier had shot the Dutchman's pet crow, the boy had borne testimony to the deed, and now for the penalty.

"Sparing you the recital of his own words, I am very glad to say in regard to Dr. Greene's great remedy that when my blood was badly impeded by an old scrofulous humor, and my nervous system was greatly impaired, Dr. Greene's medicine gave me wonderful relief.

"At the present time my health is as good as at any time in my life, and my confidence in Dr. Greene's remedy constantly increasing.

Rev. C. D. R. MEACHAM, Pastor Baptist Church, Townsend, Vt.

Doubtless the reader will sympathize with me in the use of the name inspired by the Rev. Dr. J. W. Walker, President of the Methodist Church, Fort Dodge, Ia., to also recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to the sick and suffering. His, too, has used it himself; he too, knows that it cures, that it is sure to make the sick well if they use it.

"I have given Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy a fair test, and am free to say that I consider it rightly named. I have recommended it to many.

Rev. J. W. WALKER, Presiding Elder, Fort Dodge, Ia.

We have published the testimonies of numbers of people who were cured by the use of the great discovery, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, but we take more pleasure in giving to the world the Rev. Mr. Meacham's own words and those of Mr. Walker in regard to the wonderful benefits they received from this valuable remedy, because we realize that the earnest words of a minister will have greater weight with sufferers from disease, and every body is more inclined to believe in the sure and remarkable curative powers of this medicine will lose it in securing a bottle and thus obtain a cure.

"Above all, we have great remedy in the Spring medicine to invigorate the blood, strengthen the nerves and start up a healthy action of the liver, kidneys and bowels. By using Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, it is surely vegetable and perfectly harmless, and is kept perfectly fresh.

"The latter swore vengeance, and next day appeared on Governor's Island and made complaint to the commandant that one of the soldiers had wantonly shot his pet crow. The commandant told the Dutchman to pluck out the offender and hanged him.

"Then he took a common bullet, tied it to an infinitesimally small thread, fastened the thread to the limb of a tree 20 feet above the ground, placed a small neck bottle on the ground, and the moonlight showed him the bullet drop had spread all over the west, and the mention of his name filled the Apache's heart with fear and trembling. The passengers persuaded him to give an exhibition of his marksmanship, and he consented. He nailed a board up to the side of a little shanty and put 100 balls at a distance of 100 yards in the same place without the difference of a sixteenth of an inch in 100 shots. Then he drove the nail into the board with 10 more shots. Every one applauded.

THE LEGISLATURE.

It is always in order to mention the doings of the General Court—in fact, the members would not like it if the papers failed to keep their names before the public. As a rule legislators are vain and roll nobrity as a sweet morsel under their tongues.

Many important committee hearings have been held this week, and notices for others have been published. Chief among them has been the hearing on cheap suburban railroad fares. The movement has in view the reduction of fares to a cent a mile for suburban travel, and many strong arguments were made in support of it. Railroad Companies and the suburbs would be benefited by such a law.

Considerable legislation for the city of Boston is in process of incubation, but what if anything will be hatched out it would be hard to divine.

Faxon has not been rearng and pitching and caotring around Beacon Hill quite so much as usual this week and we hope it is a sign that he will be less conspicuous there hereafter.

It must be said to their credit that the Legislature has already done much good work up to date. They are emphatically a working body of lawmakers, and will give a good account of their stewardship.

THE BATTLE IS ON.

To be numbered with "outs" is not an unmixed evil. The fight going on in Boston, and indeed all over the country, for Federal appointments under Cleveland is enough to reconcile any well regulated Republican to a quiet place among the minority. For example: there are no fewer than seven prominent Democratic lawyers who are fighting for the U. S. District Attorney of Massachusetts. Half as many are applicants for the Boston postoffice; and an equal number are after the Collectorship, with several rural precincts to hear from.

What makes it still worse for them is that the conflict has not yet reached its height, but is waxing hotter and hotter every day.

FOR GOVERNOR.

Hon. Thomas N. Hart, postmaster of Boston, frankly tells the newspapers that city that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor next fall. If the voice of a majority of the party could have been heard and heeded he would have been the candidate last fall, but the ringleaders would not have it so, and Russell was re-elected.

In the April issue of The Temperance Cause, the official organ of the Massachusetts Total Abstinence Society edited by Rev. Alfred Noon, who is also the Society's faithful and efficient Secretary, will appear a portrait and brief biographical sketch of Hon. Philip K. A. Richardson, Mayor of Woburn, with those of three other Massachusetts temperance Mayors. In each number of the paper is published one or more likenesses of prominent friends of temperance and workers in the good cause, and in pursuance of that plan Editor Noon solicited and obtained the necessary material for a proper presentation to the public of Mayor Richardson, one of the youngest and smartest Mayors in the Commonwealth. And by the way, we would respectfully suggest that The Temperance Cause, as a sturdy champion of sobriety and good morals, and a leading and influential exponent of temperance principles, is worthy of a generous support.

The Boston Herald of Wednesday afternoon contained portraits of four Woburn clergymen accompanied by short biographical sketches and brief histories of the churches. The likenesses were a great deal better than the common run of newspaper productions in that line and the letterpress made interesting reading. We wonder what scheme the Herald will strike next. Its enterprise knows no limits, and one of the very best of its recent inventions is the department "Around the Hub." It is novel, pleases the people, and is a really valuable feature of the great paper. We thought we detected in our leading Woburn ministers a step slightly more airy on Thursday than usual.

Last Wednesday there was a hearing before the Committee on Education on a petition for a law to enlarge the powers of School Committees in the several cities in Massachusetts. Who is at the bottom of the matter or the precise significance of it we are unable to say. Probably however somebody has an ax to grind.

The Journal says the "female women" of Woburn are opposed to the reintroduction of crinoline. How about the other women, Bro. Hobbs?—Reading Chronicle.

The male women? Oh, they don't count, anyway.

The Arlington Advocate is making a good fight for no-license in that town. It is backed up by the best elements in the community. The Advocate can be trusted for that sort of all the time.

The Malden Mirror believes that Hon. W. H. Barrett is the man to succeed Henry Cabot Lodge and is an earnest advocate of his election.

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1893.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1893.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Harrison, 103 Main Street; Charles R. Brown, 155 Main Street; John Cummings, 23, Cummingsville; Samuel E. Wyman, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at G. P. Brown's Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

NO SUNDAY OPENING.

The saloon men and other vicious classes in Chicago have lost their case after one of the hardest battles ever fought to establish Satan's sway. Neither their prayers or threats could induce Congress to repeal the law closing the Fair on the Lord's Day, and the gates will not be opened from Saturday night to Monday morning.

All honor to the stalwart men who stood up and fought a winning fight in behalf of the observance of the American Sabbath. They deserve all the praise that the best elements of American society have in their power to bestow.

The triumph of temperance, morality and good order was a severe blow to the wicked classes of the Nation, but they can't help themselves now, and the Sabbath, so far as the great Fair can affect it, is safe.

U. S. SENATE.

For the first time in over 30 years the Democratic party have all the departments of the Federal government in their own hands. They have at times held a single branch but not until this year, 1893, have they been the happy possessors of all. Now let them make the most of their opportunities.

The last House of Congress was overwhelmingly Democratic. The Senate was Republican by a narrow margin, and a Republican President stood behind to protect the country from pernicious legislation. The new Senate will be composed of 48 Democrats and 36 Republicans, the former including all the Populists and Independents, and the latter only true members of the party.

Let us wait with patience and see what they will do.

FTER AN OFFICE.

Mr. C. Vey Holman, late Editor of the Woburn City Press, a graduate from Harvard, and a gentleman of large wealth, is an applicant for the Belgian Mission now filled by Mr. Lambert Tree, and stands, so it is said, more than an even chance of getting it.

Mr. Holman is a life-long, old fashioned Democrat who has, with his prolific pen and the stamp, done yeoman service in his party's cause, and President Cleveland would be amply justified in giving him the place he covets.

It would be funny if after all Woburn should capture a Foreign Mission from the present Administration, wouldn't it?

THE INAUGURATION.

There were more people in Washington last Saturday than ever before in its history. It was simply one huge jam from one end of the city to the other, and although it was anything but "Cleveland weather" an immense concourse witnessed the inauguration and enjoyed the subsequent festivities. From all accounts it must have been a great gala-day for everybody there.

The inauguration ceremonies passed off without mishap or hitch. They were followed by dinners, balls, receptions and parties galore, and everything to match.

NO LICENSE.

Most of the towns in this State held their annual meetings last Monday and in nearly all of them the license question cut a conspicuous figure. The idea has prevailed of late that prohibition had gained considerable ground with the public in the last year and Monday's Town Meetings proved that such was the case. It made nearly a clean sweep, a result very gratifying to the friends of temperance and good morals.

THE DOCUMENT.

Possibly President Cleveland's Inaugural Address contained some sound ideas but they were so deeply buried and covered up in verbiage that their existence could not be demonstrated without more labor than most people felt called upon to bestow on it. For some years Mr. Cleveland has enjoyed the honor, if honor it be, of being a master of verbiage, and his Inaugural greatly strengthened his claim to that distinction.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.

Mayor Hayes of Lynn is said to be in the field for Mr. Lodge's shoes and it is claimed that in him Speaker Barrett will find a foeman worthy of his steel. His political record is that of a successful hustler and it is true that he is really to be in the contest a red-hot campaign is in store for the Republicans of the 7th District.

Last week another desperate attempt was made by some of the inmates of the State Prison at Charlestown to escape. The row was quelled before it became a general riot, but in putting it down one of the keepers was badly shot by a convict that he will lose both of his hands, it is reported. Unless something is soon done to put a stop to this business there will be one of the greatest riots in the Charlestown prison that was ever heard of.

It Tastes Good

One reason why Scott's Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda has had such a large sale is because it is "Almost as palatable as milk;" but the best reason is that its curative properties are unequalled. It cures the cough, supplies the waste of tissues, produces flesh and builds up the entire system.

Encouraging Him.
ED. JOURNAL: I trust that every citizen and every business man will be extended to our Mayor, and all who have any realizing sense of the zeal and thoroughness with which he is following through his promises to the people, an event rare enough in the case of most officers to be worthy of note.

It is pleasant to think that when no license actually prevails and our streets are once more free from the low growls and roar of the motor cars in the long polluted atmosphere, there is a prospect of Woburn's taking its appropriate place among the respected commonwealth. When that time comes, we can look to an appreciation in our real estate, after a little time, and an increasing inducements for families to settle in our city which have really many attractions to offer. Then, too, may we not expect a fine blossoming of art which shall be more in keeping with the progressive spirit of the times than the heterogeneous and altogether unattractive and unimpressive assortment of buildings which line our main thoroughfares, barring a few notable exceptions.

There can be little doubt that the prosperity of Woburn is bound up in the definite position she has taken of the high quality set her house apart. The latest decision of her people is to be a permanent one and that her officers may see to it that that hat of the people that she still holds in sold in Woburn is obeyed to the uttermost.

CITIZEN.

A Beautiful Book.

Mr. J. P. Clarke of this city is canvasing the country and has written "Every Land," which is a work comprising 500 photographic pictures of scenes in foreign parts with a succinct description of each, the whole forming a large and very handsome volume. The introduction to the work is written by General Lew Wallace, author of "Ben Hur," and the book is written with great care. The pictures include many of the most prominent names connected with American literature. The beautiful work is edited by Mr. L. C. Lowndes, and the list of Correspondents and well known litterateur.

The price of the book ranges from $3 to $5 according to the kind of binding furnished, and is very cheap, especially in view of the costly character of the work, pictorial, literary and mechanical.

The volume just now to be seen to be admired. Everyone is delighted with it, and we are glad to learn that Mr. Clark is doing a good business as its local agent.

His Cabinet.

The following are the names of President Cleveland's Cabinet who were duly confirmed Monday by the Senate:

Walter Q. Gresham, of Illinois, Secretary of State.

John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky, Secretary of War.

James G. Blaine, of Massachusetts, Attorney General.

Wilson S. Bissell, of New York, Postmaster General.

Hoke Smith, of Georgia, Secretary of the Interior.

J. G. Morton, of Nebraska, Secretary of Agriculture.

WANTED.

A man willing to work, who understands the care of cows and general farm work, to go in the leather business. He must be a good worker, and have a good trade. He must also have a part of the capital as a guarantee of good work.

In a recent number of the New England Farmer is a fine picture of a field of cantaloupes raised by J. Purtington, of South Weymouth. Last season, in the centre the many forms of melons may be recognized. This field probably shows a fine crop of melons as was ever seen in the vicinity of Boston.

The Godfrey Manufacturing plant on Cross street is expected to be open during an early day. They will make the McKay shoe invention and deserve a good purpose as Selectmen and Deserves. He is certainly fulfilling his word and keeping his pledges, an event rare enough in the case of most officers to be worthy of note.

The voters of the Highlands ought to make J. H. Winsor's calling and election a success. He is a good man and a good purpose as Selectmen and Deserves. He is certainly fulfilling his word and keeping his pledges, an event rare enough in the case of most officers to be worthy of note.

ABALLOD OF TREES AND THE MASTER

Into the woods my Master went,
Closely forested, forsaken.
In there the woods my Master came Forspent with love and shame.
But the other they would not let him,
The tree he grieved was kind to him,
The thorn tree had a mind to him,
When the woods he came.

Out of the woods my Master went,
And the woods my Master came,
Content with death and shame.
When death and shame woe him last,
From under the trees he went last,
Twas on a tree very slow he came,
When out of the woods he came.

—Sidney Lanier.

Explanation of a Sword Trick.
A trick in which a sword is apparently passed through a person's abdomen is explained as follows: The sword employed is a thin, flexible, dull blade. The prestidigitator, whose body the sword will simply pass around, but not pierce, carries concealed beneath his coat a sheet that consists of a large tube, semicircular in shape, the two extremities of which are bent in contrary directions in such a way that they are situated in the same straight line, the two orifices opening in front and behind at right angles with the abdomen. This tube runs around the farther side of the man, who, appearing instinctively to grasp the point of the sword as if to protect himself, directs it into the metallic tube. The flexible sword makes its exit between the tails of the coat. It is necessary to operate rapidly, so that the spectators shall not have time to see that the length of the sword has diminished, the curved line that it follows not being the shortest passage from one point to another.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Dead Man at the Opera.

When opera was running in New York, there was no more attentive member of the audience than a slight, fair man, who was perfect in dress and had a pleasant suavity of manner. He was always present with his wife, but it was noticed that they rarely talked together, and he never seemed to take offense, as so many of the audience used to do, at the talking and laughter in the boxes. He was stone deaf. He enjoyed color and dancing and picture groups, and he went to the opera to see it. He could sometimes get the gist of a sentence by watching the lips of a speaker, but he had not even that comfort at operas where the singing was done in German and Italian.—New York Sun.

Novel Heartbeat.

The early settlers of Bethel, Me., were much troubled by black bears, who killed the sheep, robbed the bee-hives and raided the cornfields.

A farmer, whose corn, being in the milk, attracted the bears, placed a tub of new rum and molasses in the field. The next morning he found a large bear stretched out beside it, beastly drunk. The tub was empty. When the drunk waked, he found himself securely chained.

It was an unfair advantage to take of a beast who only followed the example of many of the settlers when rum and molasses were at hand.—Youth's Companion.

The Odor of an Old Library.

The library has its own odor—to the born student as alluring as that of the salt and springing waves to the born sailor. Old leather, a curious dampness, grave and wise antiquity embodied in a scent. Habitudes of the Athenaeum library know it in its perfection when they climb the corkscrew stairs and grope through the narrow, echoing galleries and half lit rooms packed to the ceiling with faded, dirty volumes whose very names are a lesson in ancient history.—Boston Commonwealth.

A Method of Procedure.

"Some time ago there was a bank failure at Dallas," said Alex Somers of Temple, Tex., to the St. James. "There was a pompous, ignorant man who was one of the bank's directors at the time of its suspension. He was seen coming down the steps from the directors' room immediately after the doors of the bank had been closed, and an anxious depositor buttoned him and asked:

"Now, what are you going to do for us creditors? How much shall we get?"

"Sir," responded the director, "we shall immediately proceed to collect the debts and make a practical division of the surplus!"—St. Louis Republic.

Parsee Philanthropy.

Perhaps the most distinctive feature about Parsee philanthropy is that it is defracted not from a large capital sum, but out of the incomes of the donors, and in this respect it far surpasses in proportion and merit the notorious but probably more calculating charitable outlay of the Jews.—London Globe.

To Prevent Fever Sores.

Fever sores, when they are allowed to develop, are very painful and most disfiguring, and yet they can easily be cured in the beginning by keeping a ball of saltpeter on hand and at their first appearance moistening the ball with water and rubbing it on the spot.—New York Telegram.

Daniel Doughty began one of his brilliant invectives with the words, "If the press goat in licentiousness," and the Syracuse Standard reported him as saying, "If the press goat in linen trousers."

SHE PROVES IT.
And the Proof is Just What Our Readers Want.

Or How It Began She Hasn't the Slightest Idea.

BUT CONCERNING ITS ENDING SHE IS EX-PLICT AND EXACT.

We never know just how a thing begins, but we are always certain of the results which are left.

These reflections were called out by the fact that it is so easy to drift into anything that we do not keep our eyes about us or we shall constantly find ourselves drifting into trouble.

We call to mind an instance in which a most estimable lady unconsciously and without knowing how or where, allowed herself to drift into what became to her a most serious matter and caused many years of anxiety and suffering.

This lady is widely known—Mrs. Mary Jane Foster of 322 West 21st Street, New York, a great and wise soul, and exact facts, as can be easily and readily ascertained by anyone. If experience is of any use, hers is certainly a revelation to be heeded by all.

Without knowing their meaning she had a bad fever, headache, dizziness, bad taste in the mouth, especially mornings. Her sleep was broken and she would wake mornings feeling tired and exhausted. After a time the appetite became irregular, there being a desire for food, but after meals, rising of gas, sour stomach, biliousness and constipation—such symptoms, in fact as people frequently experience during the spring of the year.

MRS. MARY JANE FOSTER.

"Why," she said, "after years of I suffred from the worst form of dyspepsia with gas and fermentation of food, and terrible spasms that seemed to start at the stomach and rise to the head."

"Soon after this Professor Hoffman noticed that his dog was absent at a certain period in the day. The operator at the depot also noticed the daily visits of the dog to the station on the arrival and departure of the 2 p.m. train. Being informed as to whom the dog belonged he sent word, and Professor Hoffman next day watched the strange sight. The dog came, expecting the return of its former master, and waited patiently for the approach of the train. As the train neared the depot, it would prick up its ears and observe the arrivals. It was only when the train had passed out of sight that the dog would depart. It was really a touching scene and shows the depth of animal affection."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Last Days of Kosciusko.

Kosciusko, wounded and made prisoner at the battle of Maciejowice, was kept two years in the prisons of St. Petersburg, and, amnestied by Czar Paul I, went first to England, thence to Italy and then to Paris. Here he struck great friendship with the charge d'affaires of the Swiss confederation, M. de Zeltner, and finally went to live the last years of his life in his friend's house at Setaula, where he died on the 15th of October, 1817. The heart of the hero remained in the possession of Kosciusko's goddaughter, Mile de Zeltner, and on her marriage with Count Morosini passed into the keeping of that family.

The descendants of those among whom the great Polish patriot passed away protest most anxiously, and on the best authority, against the phrase attributed to Kosciusko when falling wounded on his last battlefield, "Finis Polonia!" This exclamation was never uttered by Kosciusko, who himself refuted the legend, saying in his last days, "These are the words of a self-conceited braggart, and as far from my heart as they are from my hopes."—London Saturday Review.

Miss Herreshoff, daughter of the famous blind designer of yachts, is almost as well posted as her father on everything pertaining to marine architecture, and it is with her eyes that Mr. Herreshoff accomplishes very important portions of his work.

Wanted to send a sample.

Now and then some neat little story turns up in a telegraph office.

Of course every one is familiar with that of the lady who wrote a message to her sister in a faraway city to the effect that she could not match a certain shade of blue silk, pinned a sample to the blank, added the words, "This is the nearest I can come to it," and requested that sample, message and all be sent at once by wire.

It was also explained that the consequences are the same whether the oaths are uttered by a person on his own premises or in the public streets.

The bench fined the defendant 4 shillings and 13 shillings costs, and intimated that they intended to suppress the use of bad language in the public streets as far as they possibly could.

—Londons Weekly.

The Law Against Profanity.

An act of parliament that was passed in the reign of George II for the suppression of profanity is still occasionally brought into force.

Under it the Wishbech magistrates have just convicted a man named Abraham Pye of Walpole, who was charged with publicly using four foul oaths, for which he had rendered himself liable to a penalty of 4 shillings, being 1 shilling for each oath.

The defendant admitted his guilt, and at the request of the chairman the clerk explained the provisions of the act, which imposes a penalty of 1 shilling per oath when uttered by a laborer, 2 shillings when the offender is above a laborer and under the degree of a gentleman, and 5 shillings when spoken by any one above the degree of a gentleman.

It was also explained that the consequences are the same whether the oaths are uttered by a person on his own premises or in the public streets.

The young man hesitated. The clock struck 10.

"My dear Miss Hattie," he said, "I am going."

He hesitated again.

"Oh, don't be in a hurry, Mr. Felix; it is early yet."

He hesitated again.

"I am going."

"So early?" and there was regret in her voice.

He hesitated once more.

"I am going."

"Don't," she pleaded.

He hesitated more than ever.

Then he braced himself.

"I am going to ask you to marry me," he exclaimed.

"Do," she whispered yearningly.

And he did with phenomenal success.—Detroit Free Press.

Revenge in Animals.

Revenge is a trait I think we must legitimate get from animal ancestry.

Elephants are notorious for paying up scores. A really pleasant story comes from Sacramento of a fellow who carried his whip into the park and began tantalizing an ape that was chawing. The frantic animal broke loose and made such havoc of the fellow that he was slightly more naked than Adam in the garden of Eden. A horse in Modesto, Cal., is reported as having a similar revenge on the park keeper. It was paid into submission to the invasion of the royal prerogative by being told when it asked what tree it might plant on the spot that it was the royal oak which saved his majesty's life. Who can guess without looking at the coin whether the story reflects hardest on the artist or the king; whether the artist made a good pine tree or the king's forestry was at fault?—Age of Steel.

A Cranky Patient.

Doctor (to patient)—I do not wish to frighten you, but if you have no objection I'd like to call in a couple of my brother physicians.

Inscrutable Patient—All right!

I need any assistance in murdering me, call in your accomplices.—Texas State Journal.

Chance for Display.

Ho—What are these hairless dogs good for?

She—To cover up, of course.—New York Weekly.

Opinions as to Salamanders.

As to a salamander, the ancients were divided in opinion, some averring that he ate the fire up, others that he did not.

When David's little child was sick he fasted and prayed. How much should these people fast when the illness is not so great? Daniel ate no meat, bread and three weeks, because he was earnestly seeking to know the mind of God (Dan. x. 23). Jesus said concerning certain evil spirits, "The kingdom of God is not yours to give or to take away." Esther was a virgin, and that she should die for the king was to go to the king whether she lived or died. Being one of them who would take her life in her hands and lay it down if need be on their behalf, she did so. But if Esther is suggestive of the church, where does the laying down of the life come in? Is it not that she should die for the sake of the church? Esther, however, became the queen of the king, because he laid down his life for her, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren."

"Someday we will be resurrected, or rise from the dead," said Esther.

"Well, sir," responded the director, "we shall immediately proceed to collect the debts and make a practical division of the surplus!"—St. Louis Republic.

TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION.

Many schemes for changing the liquor laws of this State are now before the Legislature but none of them, so far as we have been able to discover, would be an improvement if passed. Then too there seems to be an absence of agreement between professed friends of temperance as to what ought and what ought not to be enacted so that, on the whole, it will be strange if any important changes are made in the present laws.

But if people would only think so there is law enough now on the statute books to make Massachusetts much more of a total abstinence State than it is if it were only properly enforced. There is the rub—the laws are not brought to bear against the rum traffic with honest intent and proper force, those who are in power fail in their duty, violations of law are winked at, and illegal selling goes on.

Better have a little law well enforced than a bookful of dead letter, no matter how stringent it may be.

EDITORS NOT IN IT.

In a proclamation issued from the White House last week President Cleveland stated explicitly that newspaper men need look for no official favors from his hand. He says these cheeky people seem to proceed on the idea that they own the earth including the present Federal Administration and he is bound to show them their mistake. So the word has gone out, no editors need apply.

The substance of another edict is, that there are to be no "warmed over" appointments. Officers-holders under his former administration have no claims that will be respected under this, which makes it bad for those who were turned out when Harrison came in.

Cleveland is a great man.

TREATY WITHDRAWN.

President Cleveland did not approve of the Hawaiian treaty sent in for senatorial ratification so he withdrew it. He evidently thought President Harrison incapable of fixing up the business in a statesmanlike manner.

LFifty-seven years ago yesterday, March 16, 1836, Stephen Russell and Simeon L. Crockett were hung in Boston for incendiaryism. They were carpenters and set fire to dwellings on Harrison Avenue, Boston, for the purpose of making work. They were the last ever hung in Massachusetts for the crime, the Legislature soon after removing it from the list of capital offenses.

Dr. March's lecture on "Mosses" in the Congregational lecture room last Sunday evening was highly interesting, but on account of the very rough traveling the attendance was small.

Good Friday falls due two weeks from today, and Easter Sunday comes in two weeks from next Sunday, April 2. Things seem to be moving right along at railroad speed.

St. Charles Minstrel Club will give their entertainment this evening to a jam-up house. From all accounts it is going to be the best minstrel performance the boys ever gave in this city.

Mr. Waldo Thompson, manager of the old Thompson hardware store, has been laid up with a severe attack of lumbago, and Wednesday afternoon was the first time he was out for a week or more.

In his appointment to the office of postmaster Mr. Larue made a point to meet with his opposite number of W. H. Read, whom Mrs. Wyman's term expires the demand for Read's will be nearly unanimous.

The Woburn-Winchester Whist Club, one of the noisy little organizations that live and flourish hereabouts, will partake of a Club supper at the Thorndike in Boston on next Saturday evening, March 18.

Mrs. Jennings has a nice stock of marbles, tops, hoops, etc., for the boys and girls, and many other things to fill their wants. We hope that the young people will hold out along without Mrs. Jennings.

Whether Nellie Winans, wife of George's World's Fair free excursion or not the vote which she has demonstrated her popularity beyond a peradventure. But it tries as though she was going to get there, sure.

Miss Emily F. Pollard, Assistant Librarian of the Winn Free Library in this city, has been off duty for a week or two account of illness. Patrons of the institution hope she will soon resume her duties there as soon as possible.

Female mineral entertainments are great fads this season. They are all the go in polite society. We saw in the papers that two Woburn musical young ladies took a hand in one given over Newton-way the other night.

The "Nestor" of the local press says the city fathers are contemplating the purchase of the Woburn Electric Light plant, in the interest of the building out. Great schemes originate in old "Nestor's" brain.

Miss Carolyn B. Crane, daughter of Capt. John C. Crane of Hillside Avenue, will give a geman at Music Hall on next Friday evening. It will doubtless be a very select affair. Miss Crane is one of the "400," and a belle of the city.

The first bluebirds were heard. They are still singing, and several days previous to that. Spring is not yet after such a winter as we have experienced; in fact it is about as early as last year with the exception of the first springing.

Mr. Alivah J. Foster, janitor of the Woburn Building, was badly hurt two weeks ago by a sharp horse shoe shank, is getting on very well. His father, Mr. J. H. Foster, looks after his duties at the building while he is laid up.

Concerts, fixed up in his service office in Mechanics Building in fine style and can boast of rooms of slightly and pleasant as any in the country. The location is central, the office easy to get to, and everything is just as handy as a pocket of stamps.

At a meeting of the Election Committee of the Republican Club of Massachusetts in Boston on last Saturday Mr. Alfonso T. Young of this city was elected a member. A score or so of gentlemen from different parts of the State joined at the same meeting.

Darward, the popular market man, 430 Main street, has barrels of New Hampshire Baldwin apples on sale that are fair, juicy and palatable, though just picked from the parent stem. Finer fruit cannot be found in this country. Darward always keeps his best-of-everything.

Cleveland is a great man.

TREATY WITHDRAWN.

President Cleveland did not approve of the Hawaiian treaty sent in for senatorial ratification so he withdrew it. He evidently thought President Harrison incapable of fixing up the business in a statesmanlike manner.

The authorities have appointed Messrs. and Mrs. Brown to the Abrahams and in so doing acted wisely. There were other applicants, or would have been there if any show them, but the old incumbents have given such excellent satisfaction that the authorities could not be induced to make any change.

Mr. Griffi Place of this city, as Chairman of the Transportation Standing Executive Committee, with Chairmen and members of other trade organizations, petitions the Legislature for a law compelling railroad corporations to sell all new issues of capital stock at public auction, in which act he doubtless represents the sentiment of this community.

WINCHESTER.

Town Meeting March 27. "Johnny get yer gun!"

The regular Town Caucus was held last evening.

Miss Cora Emerson is suffering from a rheumatic attack.

The Y. M. C. A. are flourishing, and doing the very best of work.

We are talking of having an electric light plant of our own soon.

The Winchester Choral Society are thinking of organizing an Orchestra.

An inventory of the property of the town of Winchester puts the valuation at $80,031.30.

Electric cars are expected on the N. W. S. R. at an early day. It will be a big thing for this town.

Our folks fear that Gen. Cope ought to be promoted to Boston. If he had his just deserts he would be. But Cleveland is queen, to say the least.

The Winchester special committee on electric lighting will recommend the adoption of the act giving the town the privilege of establishing an Electric Light plant.

The Democracy are staving off the momentous problem of next postmaster for Winchester. There are a plenty of them here, but it will be the scramble is likely to be a hot one.

It is as good as settled that Judge

Col. A. W. Beard has sold his beautiful place just over the line in Lexington for $88,000.

The post office building is bound to grow in the near future and it wouldn't be surprising if its growth should help along that of the western part of the town.

The only fault I have to find with Col.

Nat Richardson is his utterly foolish and non-altruistic habit of using the Editorial

Pen when he writes for the papers.

Don't you know that only Editors and Clergymen are permitted this privilege, and that the Lord only knows why they even are allowed to say "we're not perfect"?

THE PERFECT BLOOM.
"Tis not the last, though wondrous fair,
Nor yet the full blown, repose,
But that rare charm, half seen, half guessed.
Unto her from her spicy breast
A subtle perfume on the air;
A pink flush where her sweets repose,
And slow unwell in modest bliss,
Wooed by the sun's warm, loving kiss.
"Tis to the child, though dimpled fair,
Nor yet the most winsome, but that face
That wins most hearts. "Tis that sweet flush.

OUR FRIENDS' WEBS
Like sunset's blush:
The bloom of heaven that lingers there,
And crowns her with angelic grace.
Her clear, pure eyes behold afar
The glory of Hope's safe gear.

GOD grant this perfect opening flower
To all the earth, that it may not
May wear her crown of womanhood
As something noble, grand and good;
May spread her wings in right power,
With bearings ever true and artful;
Then shall gods' troops like a dove,
Overshadow her with wings of love.
—Rose Thorpe in Ladies' Home Journal.

Wonderful Work of Earthworms.

Darwin, the great naturalist, gave it as his opinion that earthworms annually bring to the surface not less than 10 tons of dirt to every acre of the earth over. This they do through swallowing earth for the sake of the vegetable matter it may contain, the projected "casting" being the portion brought to the surface, because it is rendered unfit for further use by the action of the worm's digestive fluids. Thus it will be seen that earthworms are the farmer's best friends, aiding in agricultural work by rendering the surface porous. Their work of constant perforating makes the soil highly pervious to rains, the tender stalks of plants, etc. They also cover up decaying vegetable matter that may be lying upon the surface and perform other services that are as yet unexplainable.

The earth without worms would be like dough without yeast, cold, hard bound and void of fermentation, and consequently sterile. This has been the case in many instances where the earthworms have been accidentally or intentionally destroyed. In all such cases the lost fertility of the soil has been again restored as soon as the worms resumed their work of fertilization.—St. Louis Republic.

A Horse That Reasoned.

One very dark night a doctor was driving along at a fast trot on a level road, when he heard a wagon approaching at a rapid pace from the opposite direction. He could see nothing, but as his lights were burning brightly and the highway was a broad one he was not alarmed. Suddenly, however, his horse made a violent jump to the left and crossed the road just in time to let the approaching team, driven as it appeared, by a drunken man, dash by in the track which the doctor's buggy had at instant left.

The intelligent creature had waited till the last minute, thinking that the vehicle would keep to the right, and then, when she knew a collision to be inevitable, had sprung out of the path of danger.—Road, Track and Stable.

Evidence by Photography.

An instance of the safety and certainty of photography as a witness occurred at an inquest. A servant fell while cleaning a window and was killed. No one saw the accident. But her employer, who happened to be an amateur photographer, took a photograph of the window before anything was disturbed. This photograph showed the position of the sashes, the wash-leather, dusters, etc., on the sill, and satisfied the coroner that the girl was sitting outside at the time she fell and was not leaning out from the inside. It is suggested that the time is not far distant when a photographer will be officially attached to every division of police.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Position of a Sister.

A sister is a sort of a guardian angel in the home circle." Her presence condemns vice, she is the quickener of good resolutions, the sunshine in the pathway of home. To every brother she is light and life. Her heart is the treasure house of confidence. In her he finds a safe adviser, a charitable, forgiving, tender, though often undeserved friend. In her he finds a ready companion. Her sympathy is as open as day and sweet as the fragrance of flowers.—Exchange.

Some Maine Moths.

"Talk about the decadence of American families!" exclaims our Ashland correspondent. "There are now living within a radius of 10 miles of Ashland 8 American women who are the mothers of 102 children, 80 of whom are living in the enjoyment of good health and sound minds."—Lewiston Journal.

If one watches the water falling over the rock at Niagara, he may see it of an emerald green near the upper part of the fall. Much the same effect is produced when billows are just curving into breakers on the beach directly in front of us.

It is said that a really indelible ink and a kind of vinegar can be produced from the juices contained in the banana peel. The fiber of the peel, it is said, can also be utilized in making cloth of great strength and remarkable beauty.

Nearly every man is managed by some woman, consciously or unconsciously on the part of the man. The men who are unconscious of such management and would resent the intimation are the most managed of all.

In the manufactures of Great Britain alone the power which steam exerts is estimated to be equal to the manual labor of 4,000,000,000 men, or several times more than the number of males supposed to inhabit the globe.

Solomon's temple was 107 feet long, 36 feet broad and 5 feet high. Though deemed a wonder of the world, it was not larger than many private houses of the present time.

The lion is never so much to be dreaded as when his partner has small young ones. Then he knows no fear, and in the coolest and most impudent manner will face a thousand men.

GODS THAT MEN MAKE

LESSON XII, FIRST QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, MARCH 19.

Text of the Lesson, Isa. xlvi, 9-20—Memory Verses, 9-11—Golden Text, Isa. xvi, 8—Commentary by the Rev. Dr. M. Stearns.

COL. SILLOWAYE SPEAKS

What a Colonel of Gen. McClellan's Staff Says.

He Saved President Lincoln from Capture.

HE WAS THE PRESERVER ALSO OF JOHN JACOB ASTOR.

Col. William A. H. Silloway is 60 years old. He resides at Bellows Falls, Vt., and is connected with the Bellows Falls Times. He has something of the most vital interest to say to his fellow soldiers of the G. A. R., and to those who are still in the ranks. "There is but one God, and Deed makes known that Jesus is Jehovah, the only true God, and only Saviour, we have the missionary spirit. His influences, like the wind, are everywhere; compare them with the vanity. Compare verse 8 with this verse. Those who know not God may worship vanity, but the people of God are to worship Him in spirit and in truth."

God grant this perfect opening flower to all the earth, though dimpled fair, Nor yet the most winsome, but that face That wins most hearts. "Tis that sweet flush.

Col. Silloway—When I first went to the army, I was a boy, and my parents were poor, but I was a good boy, and I did my duty well.

Col. Silloway—They made me a good boy, and I did my duty well. I was a good boy, and I did my duty well.

TO IMPROVE HIGHWAYS.

Hon. Elihu B. Hayes, Mayor of Lynn, has drafted a bill in the interests of better roads in this State which is practical, liberal, and ought to become a law. It will soon go before the Legislative Committee on Roads and Bridges where, it is fair to presume, it will receive favorable consideration.

The plan suggested by Mayor Hayes is mainly for the benefit of the smaller towns of the Commonwealth which are not able to build and maintain roads of a high grade of excellence, and at the same time its practical working would not involve a public expense that Boston capitalists. He will return next week.

Mr. E. Colburn has sold his farm on Lexington st, and intends to move to and reside in the future at the Centre. He bought the farm 27 years ago come June.

Mr. J. W. Hammond writes that spring in all its beauty and balminess now reigns at St. Augustine, Florida, where he and Mrs. Hammond are enjoying life to the brim.

Lawyer Norris has been absent during the past week in the South, where he is looking after important property interests for Boston capitalists. He will return next week.

Mr. Waterman Cummings died suddenly at his home on Church street last Sunday morning of heart disease. He left a widow and one daughter to mourn his death.

Barring an unusual display of the "green," the real estate dealer in Johnson Block, a few days ago, sold the Daniel Bartram property on Sturgis street to J. McKenna and Ann Murray for satisfactory figures.

Relief Corps 85 will give an Orange Tea at their rooms in the Bank Block, on Tuesday, March 28. The educated men will be there and take the obligation. Tickets 25 cents.

Attention is called to the card of Miss Norton, intelligent office, in the paper. She writes, "We will through 'Givers' send more girls to whom are waiting excellent places at good wages."

Local reporters of the Boston papers continue to agitate the District Court Clerkship with commendable persistency. They are never happier than when suspending somebody by the ears.

Mr. Albert E. Barrett of Post 33, and Mr. James L. Pinkham of Post 191, have been appointed Aides-de-camp by Commander Eli W. Hall of the Department of Massachusetts G. A. C.

It is evident that but we have had considerable snow this season, so it is quite more binding there was quite a little fall yesterday. Some called it a "Robin storm," but we failed to discover any robins in it.

In another column are given a few extracts from the report, and we only wish it were our power to lay it before our readers in full.

The "drunk law" is all right.

ANOTHER BIG ONE.

Boston has been meeting with the rubbers from freights lately and if a stop is not soon put to it the city will be burned up.

Last Sunday Tremont Temple was totally destroyed by the devouring element, which also did some damage to the Parker House, close by, and other business establishments, the total loss footing up to $250,000. That makes the third time that Tremont Temple has been laid low by fire. The origin of Sunday's conflagration is not known, but more likely as it was not the work of a firebug, of which Boston appears to be full at this time.

POSITIVELY DECLINES.

Governor Hale gave out word last week that he would not run for Governor again this year under any circumstances, and there is no reason for thinking he did not mean what he said. It is something of a question whether or not he could have secured a nomination if he had not withdrawn from the field.

From present appearances there will be no lack of candidates for the office and a redhot fight for it will not be much of a surprise to anybody.

THE 4th annual convention of the Middlesex County Y. P. S. C. E. will be held in the Congregational Church at Waltham on Fast Day, April 6. There will be afternoon and evening sessions, and the convention Topic will be "Work." Delegates from abroad will eat themselves, but get coffee, tea and milk from the Waltham society at a nominal cost.

Employees on the Boston & Maine system of railroads are well pleased with the retention of Mr. Daniel W. Sanborn by the Company as General Superintendent. He is an able railroad manager and popular with everybody.

Late Local News.

Miss Carolyn Crane's subscription german last week was a super-fashionable ultra-select and very enjoyable.

The Honorable Mr. H. K. Kimball was born last Wednesday as per convenience. There is a very large sized idea about that there is no basis for the action. Lawyer Allen defends him.

Martin Cutler has turned up alive and discovered to be a resident of Dallas, Texas, and in Captain Clegg's Cavalry on March 22. Report says for 28 years it was believed that he was killed in battle and Southern soil held his bones. Very recently, by mere accident, his family found out that he is alive and a citizen of Texas, and there are great rejoicing over the discovery.

The death of Mr. Walter Wyman Woburn loses one of its oldest and most highly esteemed citizens. His passing away was no surprise to his family and friends, for at 87 years of age the thread of life is extremely brittle and the strength of the man was diminished with certain of his time. He was always a man of commanding presence. A good man left when Mr. Walter Wyman took his departure last Wednesday from all earthly scenes. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at his late residence.

City Government.

COMMON COUNCIL.

A meeting was held on the evening of
Mar. 23.

Frank E. Tracy was chosen Assistant Fire Engineer, and the same was appointed for 6 years; Prior, 5. Nonmuni-cated—Retired to concur with Aldermen in choice of Water Commissioner.

Petition of Dr. James H. Conway asking that the construction of sewer be commenced in the town of Woburn, and the same was referred to the Board of Health. The Highway Committee reported an order for drinking fountain and watering trough corner of Main st. and Lake ave. Report rejected.—The refunding order was passed;
also for portrait of ex Mayor Thompson; also for $500 for Chief of Police, tax office and $50 to janitor of City Hall; also to pay highway laborers for East Day.

An Act to Improve the Highways OF THE COMMONWEALTH AND TO AID TOWNS IN THE CONSTRUC-TION AND MAINTENANCE OF BETTER ROADS.

Upon the application of the County Commissioners of any county to the Governor and Council, and the same is approved at the expense of the Commonwealth, one or more steam rollers, portable stone crushers and such other road machines as the Governor and Council may deem necessary and best adapted to the making of good roads in the state.

Such machines shall remain the property of the Commonwealth and be managed and maintained under the direction of the County Commissioners.

The County Commissioners shall engage one or more contractors to make roads to operate said machines, who shall be paid from the county treasury sum for each day's actual service as the County Commissioners may determine. One half the expense so incurred shall be repaid to the Contractor by the Commonwealth.

The contractor shall pay from the treasury of the Commonwealth such sums as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act.

North Woburn.

At the annual meeting of the North Woburn Business Association last Tuesday evening, B. F. Kimball was elected President; Andrew R. Linscott, Vice-President; H. M. Call, Secretary and Treasurer, and as Executive Committee, E. H. Perley (Chairman),
O. T. Curtis, Charles H. Kimball, D.
L. Coburn, and Edward S. Eaton.
Some new members were added to the roll. It was voted that "in the opinion of this Association the Pantosco Company's works are a public nuisance and ought to be abated," and the Secretary was instructed to communicate with the Board of Health and make a formal demand for its abatement.

Much pleasure is promised theatre patrons in next week's attraction at the Grand Opera House. The play is Mr.
Eugene Tompkins great success, "The Soudan." This announcement would be on Monday night. The cast includes James Brown, Potter and Mr. Kyrle
Selby; for three years, John L. Ayer;
Treasurer, T. S. Spurr; Assessor,
Thomas H. Stinson; Collector of Taxes, Aaron C. Bell; member of Water Board for three years, David N.
Skillings; Trustee of Town Library,
Horace D. Bradbury; Auditor, Joseph
J. Todd; Cemetery Commissioner,
Charles E. Redfern; School Committee,
Samuel S. Symmes; Board of Health,
Benjamin T. Church, John R. Freeman,
Alfred S. Hall, Dennis B. Winn,
Fred S. Canedy; Overseers of the Poor, Alfred Ayer, George H. Carter,
Cynthia J. Pierce, James H. Winn,
Henry Bishop, Timothy H. Haley, J. Winslow
Richardson; Fence Viewers, Edward Robinson, Edward Flaherty, License—Yes, 154; No, 353.

The following sum were appropriated:
Support of Schools, $22,825, $100 of this was used for used for Highways and Bridges, $2,413.67, and corporation tax estimated at $8,000; Snow and Ice, $1000; Concrete Sidewalks, $500.

The meeting adjourned to next Monday evening.

THE BOSTON.

Next Monday, April 3, Lillian Russell
Opera Comique Company will present to the patrons of the Boston Theatre
"The Mountebank." The Libretto, by Miss Louise Imogen Guiney expressly written for her, will be Alfred Pollard, Miss Lillian Russell is a real favorite, and her return will gratify her admirers.

The Boston theatre will be none too busy to accommodate the audience which shows up blossoms like blossoms on the stage curtains underneath.

For one week only.

THE GLOBE.

A return engagement of Manager Setson's "The Crust of Society" will begin on Monday next. The cast will be the same as the week before, except that Mrs. Anna Held will appear in the rôle of the Queen of Sheba.

The play was adapted to the American stage by Mr. W. Setson. The stars are attracted wide attention when here and a great success awaits this production. It shows what people with wealth will do to get into the upper crust of society.

THE COLUMBIA.

The Thomas Q. Seashore Opera Company will present "The Isle of Champagne" at the Columbia theatre, beginning on Monday night next. Although its first appearance in Boston, the Opera has been strengthened, especially in the ballet. Its gorgeous scenery, magnificient costumes, and brilliant singing are able pretty girls all far to make up its success. No doubt the Columbia will be filled at each performance as no prettier opera has been seen here.

THE BOWDIN SQUARE.

"Shore Acres" excels all previous efforts in this line and daily grows in popularity. As is shown by the large admission of 75 & 50 cts., it will begin the eighth week. "Shore Acres" is a natural play and realism is the chief feature. The 50¢ performance is announced for Tuesday evening, April 4. Mr. Herne's acting is spoken of only in praise. Mr. Harris,
Mr. Edmund, Mr. Schell, Mr. Bimbo, Miss Mary Hampton, Miss Addison are all excellent. "Shore Acres" must be seen in order to appreciate its true value.

THE BOWDIN SQUARE.

"You Youson," a Swedish comedy, will be given on next Monday night and will be the most popular play to be seen at the Bowdoin Square theatre. The company will be one of the best and include many favorites. "After Dark" is the attraction for the balance of this week. The stage scenes are unique, elaborate scale and the company is a powerful one. Little Herbert La Martine will dance at each performance.

AUSTIN'S PALACE THEATRE.
"The Ta and the TaTa," a travesty on the "Ta and the Ta" will be the next attraction at the Palace theatre in Boston. Charming Miss Agnes Evans one of the stage beauties of the day will be in the leading rôle of "Ben Ali" and she will be supported by a company of young and shapely girls. A brilliant production is assured for the Palace theatre, management never does things by halves. "Rhythm" will also sing and a great variety show will also be given.
Concert Sunday evening.

USE DANIA'S SARSAPARILLA, ITS
"THE KIND THAT CURES."

WINCHESTER.

A big West Side Hotel is in embryo.
The Y. M. C. A. Juniors beat the Hyde Park boys bad last Saturday.

The Calumet Club will give their hightest Minstrel Show on Fast Day.

Mrs. Dr. Daniel March has gone to the Azores. Miss Minnie Joy went with her.

The B. & M. Co. are going to change Mystic Station to the west side of the track near Bacon street.

Mrs. Charles Shattuck, a gifted lady, is Chairman of the Committee on Literature of the Fortnightly Club.

The ladies of the Congregational church are going to provide an old fashioned supper for the public on April 13.

George R. Brine, who runs a clothing store Woburn, wants the Winchester postoffice bad. The present incumbent has got to go.

Winchester voted "No" with a nub to it on the run question last Monday.
This town is bound to preserve her reputation for moral cleanliness.

The Ladies' Violet Club, composed of the smart young ladies of this town, will give a dance on April 7, for which great preparations are in progress.

Mr. Reardon of the Plains, one of the most active and successful Democratic workers in this town, expects to get the postoffice, and will probably "make the riddle."

Don't the Democrats know that the "Winchester Plan" won't work under this administration? They ought to.
No cause, vote, or mandate of Town Committees are going to count this hitch.

The reason why the Stoneham-Winchester-Arlington Street Railroad Co. do not go on with their scheme is because they are waiting to get some prime land on Highland Ave., which is being rapidly taken up.

Miss Flynn, who was so terribly injured in the great Boston fire a month ago, is still in the hospital, but she is coming out all right. The brilliant incidents of her rescue are a total blank to her. She remembers Mr. Redpath's efforts to save her, and there her memory stops.

Rev. Dr. March, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Woburn, will lecture on "Palestine and the Bible" at
Y. M. C. A. Hall at 3:30 o'clock next Sunday afternoon. Everybody ought to hear it for the lecture will be of great interest as well as highly entertaining.
The Secretory hopes to meet and greet a full house.

The annual Town Meeting was held
